13 Survivors Of Ill-Fated Ship To Dock

Skipper Cites Boys' Refusal To Panic; 6 Die In Gulf Storm

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The skipper of the ill-fated student cruise ship Albatross today credited the refusal of the boys to panic for the fact that 13 survived when a sudden storm sank the vessel in the Gulf of Mexico.

Christopher B. Sheldon of Darien, Conn., was interviewed by The Associated Press in the stateroom of a rescue ship while cruising toward Tampa.

"The crew was very orderly about getting off the ship," he said. "This was the principle reason so many of us got off."

Six of the 19 aboard went down with the Albatross when a subtropical storm broke over the vessel without warning Tuesday and drove her to the bottom in one minute.

Ten of the survivors are boys, ranging in age from 15 to 18. Most are from wealthy families.

Four of the dead were classmates. The others were a cook and Dr. N. Alice Sheldon, wife of the skipper.

The black-hulled Gran Rio, freighter flying the Surinam flag, picked up the survivors 24 hours after the square-rigged brigantine sank. The Gran Rio entered Tampa Bay shortly after dawn today.

David (Tod) Johnstone, 17, of Stonington, Conn., was at the wheel when the Albatross was staggered by the blow of the storm.

When the ship started to go over, Philip Le Boutillier, 17, of Perrysburg, Ohio, went to Johnstone's aid.

"She went to one side," Tod said. "We thought she would right herself but we had water on deck. We thought she would come back up but she didn't."

Phil said Tod "grabbed me and pulled me out of the wheelhouse and up toward the railing."

The boys said there was little surface wind when the vessel keeled over, but a heavy gust struck the rigging. There was lightning and some rain.

Charles (Tad) Sahler, 18, of Pittsford, N. Y., called the wind "a white squall. It's the first time I've ever seen one and I never want to see another again."

A white squall, he said, comes up without notice and passes quickly, above the water level.

Among the survivors, William Bunting, 16, of Cambridge, Mass., was the only one injured. He had a gash on his head.

"Bunting really used his head," Sheldon said. "He got out by butting his head against a door and smashing it open."

Youth Admits To Killing Of 2 Schoolgirls

KADOKA, S.D. (AP) — James Scott Stephens, 16, was held for Michigan authorities far from home in this prairie country town today after police said he admitted the rifle slayings of two Holland, Mich., schoolgirls.

South Dakota officers said Wednesday night that the teenage Boy Scout admitted the slayings "with no emotion" after being questioned all day. Stephens was quoted as saying the shootings were accidental.

Don Licht, state crime bureau agent, and Warren Pearson, Jackson County sheriff, refused to give details of the youth's statement, saying they had been so instructed by authorities at Holland.

An Associated Press Wirephoto newspaper picture of the youth brought Stephens arrest. Kadoka Police Chief Alvin Baldwin picked him up about midnight Tuesday after seeing him standing in front of a roadside diner and noting his resemblance to the picture.

The slender, brown-haired high school sophomore carried a knapsack and had $5 when his 1,200-mile flight from home was halted.

Stephens vanished Sunday while searchers were looking for Carol Gee, 11, and Margaret Chambers, 12, who had disappeared the afternoon before while picking wild flowers near their homes just outside Holland.

Bill To Alter Utility Rate Setup Killed

House Committee Rules Out Change By 14 To 6 Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Well, another milestone in another legislative session. Another attempt to change the utility rate formula in Ohio has been shelved.

The axe fell Wednesday night in the Republican-controlled Elections and Federal Relations Committee of the House by a 14-6 vote. Two years ago, the utility rate bill went to the chopping block on the floor of the House in a wide-open, catch-as-catch-can debate.

The only Democrat to oppose the bill Wednesday night was Rep. V. J. Kruse, D-Fayette.

Defeat of the measure came after days of hoopla surrounding a request for an investigation of utility practices by Rep. Richard M. Christiansen, D-Richland. The request was sparked by a letter written by George B. Quatman of Lima, head of 16 independent Ohio telephone companies, which flatly stated Ohio utilities inflate their rate requests in anticipation that they would be "pulled down" by the state's Utilities Commission.

Backers of a change in the formula, urged on by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, wanted to add another factor in the utility rate law. At present, only "replacement cost new, less observed depreciation" can be considered in determining rates. This year's move was to give equal weight to "fair value."

The death of the rate bill came some hours after a floor session in which the House voted to strengthen Ohio laws against obscene publications.

Testimony At Eichmann Trial

Ex-Nazi Seen Organizer For Exterminating Jews

JERUSALEM (AP)—A Jewish underground fighter in World War II testified today that a German army sergeant told him Adolf Eichmann was "organizing everything" in the Nazi campaign to exterminate Europe Jews.

Abba Kovner, now a writer in Israel, told the three-judge court trying Eichmann for complicity in the wartime murder of millions of Jews, that his informant, Sgt. Anton Schmidt, was executed by the Nazis for helping the Jews.

Kovner said he had a secret meeting with Schmidt one night in January 1942 in a Lithuanian village.

"We had a few drinks," Kovner testified. "Schmidt was nervous. I asked about Gestapo officers behind the extermination of Jews and the Nazi persecution in ghettos.

"I asked him about local Gestapo commanders. Schmidt said to me: 'These local commanders have no say. There is one dog called Eichmann and he is organizing everything.'"

Another prosecution witness, Meir Dvorski, told of a bureaucracy of death in the Nazi-created ghettos. Dvorski said "lebensscheine"—life certificates— were issued to Jews picked for a respite from the gas chambers and firing squads but that the Jews themselves had to decide who should be saved.

Conference Called

Both Sides Speed Plans For Cease-Fire In Laos

Space Ride Still Slated For Friday

Countdown Started As Report Promises Favorable Weather

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — With a promise of favorable weather in the offing, the U.S. space agency today began a preliminary countdown aimed at launching astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. into space at 7 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Friday.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the weather had improved and it now looks like a better than 50-50 chance of launching Friday.

The Project Mercury weather support group said there would be "fair weather in the Cape area Friday."

In the capsule recovery area 290 miles down range the forecast was for partly cloudy skies with a few widely scattered showers.

The weather support group said there would be easterly surface winds of 10-15 knots with waves three to four feet high.

Those conditions appeared to fall well within the acceptable limits for the launching.

Bad weather forced postponement Tuesday of the first attempt to launch the 37-year-old Navy commander on his 115-mile high ride.

Shepard and his backup, John H. Glenn Jr., today passed up further simulated tests in a mock capsule similar to the one perched on the Redstone rocket which will launch this nation's first spaceman.

The men had simulated flights Wednesday such as they have been going through for several weeks in preparation for the flight. Each ran through one flight while an engineer for the McDonnell Aircraft Corp., sat in the actual capsule on the pad. A space agency spokesman said the engineer, Burt North, sat in the capsule for three simulated missions lasting from 1½ to 1¾ hours each.

The tests were to check out the complete Redstone and capsule system, said John Powers, NASA spokesman. "Each of them was very good."

Powers said that one of the main reasons for the runthroughs was to check an electrocardiograph sensor in the capsule which will radio back information on Shepard's heart during the flight.

The sensor had not worked properly during the countdown that preceded the postponement of the flight on Tuesday.

Today's countdown was to last five to seven hours and give most of the rocket's major system a complete check.

Huge Manned Balloon Sent Aloft By U.S.

ABOARD AIRCRAFT CARRIER ANTIETAM (AP) — The Navy launched a huge manned balloon from the deck of the carrier Antietam in the Gulf of Mexico today in an attempt to set an altitude record.

The attempt began from a point about 43 miles southeast of South Pass at the mouth of the Mississippi River. Slight technical difficulties had delayed the launch more than an hour.

The experiment was aimed to take two Navy officers to the highest altitude ever reached by a balloonist — 116,000 feet or almost 22 miles above the earth's surface in a flight lasting 7 to 8 hours.

The balloonists are Cmdr. Malcolm Ross of Washington, the pilot, and Lt. Cmdr. Victor E. Prather, medical officer of the Bethesda, Md., Naval Medical Institute, scientific observer.

Goes To $1.15, Then $1.25

Kennedy's Program Given Boost By Wage Bill Okay

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's legislative program has been given a tremendous boost by passage of his minimum wage bill after it was nearly throttled in the House.

The measure, cut and trimmed in minor areas in a successful effort to pick up support, emerged from Congress Wednesday with its key provision for extending minimum wage coverage.

The Senate, as expected, approved it resoundingly 64 to 28. The big surprise was in the House, which had twice rejected similar measures. The House approved it 230 to 196.

Hard prodding by the White House and the House Democratic leadership on wavering members, plus concessions written into the bill, combined to give the administration its comeback victory.

The bill, as it goes to the White House, raises the minimum wage for those covered from $1 an hour to $1.15 in four months and to $1.25 two years later. Its chief provision, over which Congress has been battling for more than a year, deals with new coverage.

Under the bill minimum wage protection will be extended for the first time into the retail and service area, with 3.6 million workers being brought in. Concerns doing $1 million annual business and handling at least $250,000 in goods that cross state lines are covered.

A conservative coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats failed to limit new coverage to the big chain stores operating in more than one state, an approach the House accepted just a month ago and also last session.

The key to winning Southern support was a series of exemptions for specific groups written into the bill during the conference. These removed certain cotton gin employes, tobacco processions, livestock auctioneers and others from coverage.

In the House debate before Wednesday's vote Republicans branded the Democratic conferees as cynical and unprincipled for their various maneuvers and concessions in bidding for Southern support.

Unexpectedly heavy support also came from Republican ranks as 33, mostly from industrial areas, deserted the GOP leadership and supported the administration.

Industry Man Hurt Slightly In City Crash

Wrecker Hits Auto Of Pennsylvanian, Then Midland Car

A Beaver County man was injured slightly in a spectacular crash Wednesday in the Oakland section of East End when a wrecker truck went out of control because of steering gear failure and struck two oncoming autos, police reported.

James Elmer Waddle, 32, of Industry R. D. 1 was treated at City Hospital for an injury to the left thumb. His car was one of two hit in the collision on Pennsylvania Ave. at Walters St., officers said.

A broken ball joint in the front end assembly of a truck driven by Edwin Hager Jr., 22, of 2111 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. was blamed for the collision.

The eastbound wrecker, owned by Carter Tucker, a Harvey Ave. junk yard operator, went across the center line and struck Waddle's westbound 1957 sedan, then hit a 1955 sedan — also westbound — operated by William Wyche, 33, of 517 Wood Lane Ave., Midland, police said.

A mechanic who examined the wrecker after the mishap found the broken ball joint, officers said. He expressed the opinion that the damage would have made the wrecker impossible to control, officers reported.

Wyche was driving behind Waddle. He told police he saw the truck hit Waddle's car and swerved to the right to avoid a collision, but his car was hit by the truck's left front wheel.

There was extensive damage to the left front fender of Waddle's auto, officers said. The left rear fender of Wyche's car was damaged.

A parked auto was damaged in another mishap reported to police Wednesday at 10 p. m.

Judith Kittridge, 821 Chester Ave., said the left rear fender of her 1959 auto was struck by a hit-skip vehicle while parked in an alley which intersects Chester Ave. near her home.

She said a white and red 1960 Chevrolet backed into her car, but the offending motorist continued without stopping. She gave police a description of the auto and a license number.

Child Killed By Car

The Carnegie Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said a suspect is being questioned at Pittsburgh in the death of Kathleen Klein, 10, of near McKees Rocks, who was struck by a hit-run auto on Route 60 three miles out of Pittsburgh late Wednesday afternoon. She was on her bicycle when the car ran off the road and struck her.

Tax Payment Hits $23,431; 1,000 Unfiled

Latest figures show total collections of $23,431 from the city income tax, Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said today.

The receipts include $11,206 from individual returns, $4,581 from business places and $7,644 withheld from payrolls by employers and turned over to the city.

Of an estimated 4,400 individual returns that were anticipated by the deadline Monday night, approximately 1,000 still have not been filed, Wilkinson estimated.

The last-minute rush was so heavy that a backlog of mail has piled up and still remains unopened. Wilkinson estimated there are 300 to 400 returns in the mail still to be processed.

The collection figure represents a total as of the close of business Saturday night. At that time, records showed 2,433 individual returns had been filed and processed, exclusive of the mail backlog.

The tax declaration forms cover an accounting of earned income or net profits for the period between Feb. 1 and next Dec. 31. The forms were mailed to business and professional men in East Liverpool and to individuals who live here but work outside the city limits.

Persons whose entire income is subject to withholding need not file returns. The employer deducts the tax from payrolls and turns over the money to the city quarterly.

"It will be several days before we will get around to issuing delinquent notices to persons who have not filed the individual returns," Wilkinson said. "And the mail still is rolling in."

Persons who receive the delinquent notices and still fail to respond will be given subpoenas directing them to report to the income tax office at City Hall.

Council Told Of Chester's Water Deficit

$5,000 Owed By Delinquent Users; Collection Pushed

Chester Council was told Wednesday night of "serious concern" about the financial condition of the municipal water works due to a large amount of delinquent water bills.

Councilman W. F. Bishop, chairman of the water and sewer committee, said, "The water works is in bad shape financially and we are concerned about the deficit."

The committee last week ordered shut-off of water service for customers who have not paid bills prior to Jan. 1.

Bishop said last night 11 shut-offs were made since Monday, but service was resumed for nine homes when the householders promised to pay their bills by Saturday. Only two homes remain without water.

Bishop said only six city water customers with bills dated before Jan. 1 have paid. Over $5,000 is owed the water department and Bishop declared, "We cannot operate with a deficit like this in a small town."

Bishop said several of the delinquent bills have been turned over for collection to Squire John Herron of New Cumberland.

Councilman Donald Hissam said, "We don't have that kind of money to play around with, and no one can stay in business with that kind of deficit."

Council was told by a Pennsylvania Railroad Co. representative that requests for crossing and bridge repairs and weed control filed by Council last month will be met soon.

Reason For Failure

Ike Reportedly Blames Poor Planning On Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was represented today as believing that inadequate military planning contributed to the Cuban invasion failure.

The former president, who has given his backing to President Kennedy in the Cuban and Laotian crises, was reported to have criticized in a discussion Monday with Republican leaders at Gettysburg, Pa., the military tactics employed by the invading Cuban rebel forces.

Without attempting to assess any blame, Eisenhower was quoted as wondering if the Joint Chiefs of Staff had been consulted in any detail about the mounting of the invasion.

The former president was reported to have expressed the view that most of the heavy military equipment was loaded into a single old Liberty ship that could hardly withstand any shore battery fire or aerial attack. He reportedly said this seemed inconceivable to him.

As an old military man, Eisenhower was represented as feeling that anybody who had studied the battle of Gallipoli would have known in advance that it would be almost impossible to make the

Parley Eyed To Map New Ruling Unit

End Of Fighting In Sight As Neutralist Calls For Meeting

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—With an end of the fighting apparently in sight, Prince Souvanna Phouma today assumed the dominant role in the formation of a new Laotian government.

The "neutralist" prince, 60, recognized by the Communists as the legal premier of Laos, called a conference of the kingdom's political leaders for Friday as both sides went ahead to put into effect a cease-fire in the civil war.

Prince Boun Oum's Western-backed government did not immediately accept Souvanna Phouma's proposal for a parley at the village of Ban Namone, about 55 miles north of Vientiane. But the regime's strongman, and deputy premier, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, told newsmen he expects political meetings will begin before the end of the week.

The political parley will try to work out a formula for a new coalition government representing Phoumi's right-wing forces, Souvanna's neutral supporters and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels headed by Souvanna's half brother, Prince Souphanouvong. It also will discuss Laotian representation at the 14-nation Geneva conference, scheduled to meet May 12 to chart the future of Laos.

Souvanna, who on his recent tour of Europe and Communist Asia allied himself openly with the Soviet Union and Red China, appeared by far the strongest contender to head any coalition government. The pro-Communist fighting forces supporting him hold a good portion of the country and have held the military initiative conclusively for several months.

Government and rebel officers were to meet today to iron out details of the cease-fire. The meeting was planned for an area on the front north of Vientiane, with both sides to pull back four miles from the meeting place. Gen. Phoumi said there had been some disagreement over the exact site but indicated it was not considered serious.

With an end to the shooting war in prospect, Vientiane's right-wing officials and Western diplomats braced for a fight on the political front to keep Laos from going Communist.

"Now we really have to go to work, and it's not going to be easy," said one Western diplomat.

Boun Oum, 57, easy-going premier backed by the West, has said he is willing to step aside in the interests of peace. Gen. Nosavan, a staunch anti-Communist, has bitterly opposed Souvanna because of his collaboration with the Reds.

Vote Board May End Official Count Today

The Columbiana County Election Board should finish work sometime today on the offical canvass of returns from the primary elections Tuesday, Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, chairman, reported.

The board started the official canvass this morning at its office on W. 6th St. The job sometimes requires two to three days following a countywide general election, but since the voting Tuesday involved only part of the precincts and the returns were light the job will be completed quickly, Stacey indicated.

The count made Tuesday night shortly after the polls closed was complete, but unofficial. Today's tabulation will furnish the figures that will be certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus.

James Elmer Waddle, 32, of Industry R. D. 1 was treated at City Hospital for an injury to the left thumb. His car was one of two hit in the collision on Pennsylvania Ave. at Walters St., officers said.

A broken ball joint in the front end assembly of a truck driven by Edwin Hager Jr., 22, of 2111 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. was blamed for the collision.

The eastbound wrecker, owned by Carter Tucker, a Harvey Ave. junk yard operator, went across the center line and struck Waddle's westbound 1957 sedan, then hit a 1955 sedan — also westbound — operated by William Wyche, 33, of 517 Wood Lane Ave., Midland, police said.

A mechanic who examined the wrecker after the mishap found the broken ball joint, officers said. He expressed the opinion that the damage would have made the wrecker impossible to control, officers reported.

Wyche was driving behind Waddle. He told police he saw the truck hit Waddle's car and swerved to the right to avoid a collision, but his car was hit by the truck's left front wheel.

There was extensive damage to the left front fender of Waddle's auto, officers said. The left rear fender of Wyche's car was damaged.

A parked auto was damaged in another mishap reported to police Wednesday at 10 p. m.

Judith Kittridge, 821 Chester Ave., said the left rear fender of her 1959 auto was struck by a hit-skip vehicle while parked in an alley which intersects Chester Ave. near her home.

She said a white and red 1960 Chevrolet backed into her car, but the offending motorist continued without stopping. She gave police a description of the auto and a license number.

Child Killed By Car

The Carnegie Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said a suspect is being questioned at Pittsburgh in the death of Kathleen Klein, 10, of near McKees Rocks, who was struck by a hit-run auto on Route 60 three miles out of Pittsburgh late Wednesday afternoon. She was on her bicycle when the car ran off the road and struck her.

Tax Payment Hits $23,431; 1,000 Unfiled

Latest figures show total collections of $23,431 from the city income tax, Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said today.

The receipts include $11,206 from individual returns, $4,581 from business places and $7,644 withheld from payrolls by employers and turned over to the city.

Of an estimated 4,400 individual returns that were anticipated by the deadline Monday night, approximately 1,000 still have not been filed, Wilkinson estimated.

The last-minute rush was so heavy that a backlog of mail has piled up and still remains unopened. Wilkinson estimated there are 300 to 400 returns in the mail still to be processed.

The collection figure represents a total as of the close of business Saturday night. At that time, records showed 2,433 individual returns had been filed and processed, exclusive of the mail backlog.

The tax declaration forms cover an accounting of earned income or net profits for the period between Feb. 1 and next Dec. 31. The forms were mailed to business and professional men in East Liverpool and to individuals who live here but work outside the city limits.

Persons whose entire income is subject to withholding need not file returns. The employer deducts the tax from payrolls and turns over the money to the city quarterly.

"It will be several days before we will get around to issuing delinquent notices to persons who have not filed the individual returns," Wilkinson said. "And the mail still is rolling in."

Persons who receive the delinquent notices and still fail to respond will be given subpoenas directing them to report to the income tax office at City Hall.

Council Told Of Chester's Water Deficit

$5,000 Owed By Delinquent Users; Collection Pushed

Chester Council was told Wednesday night of "serious concern" about the financial condition of the municipal water works due to a large amount of delinquent water bills.

Councilman W. F. Bishop, chairman of the water and sewer committee, said, "The water works is in bad shape financially and we are concerned about the deficit."

The committee last week ordered shut-off of water service for customers who have not paid bills prior to Jan. 1.

Bishop said last night 11 shut-offs were made since Monday, but service was resumed for nine homes when the householders promised to pay their bills by Saturday. Only two homes remain without water.

Bishop said only six city water customers with bills dated before Jan. 1 have paid. Over $5,000 is owed the water department and Bishop declared, "We cannot operate with a deficit like this in a small town."

Bishop said several of the delinquent bills have been turned over for collection to Squire John Herron of New Cumberland.

Councilman Donald Hissam said, "We don't have that kind of money to play around with, and no one can stay in business with that kind of deficit."

Council was told by a Pennsylvania Railroad Co. representative that requests for crossing and bridge repairs and weed control filed by Council last month will be met soon.

Reason For Failure

Ike Reportedly Blames Poor Planning On Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was represented today as believing that inadequate military planning contributed to the Cuban invasion failure.

The former president, who has given his backing to President Kennedy in the Cuban and Laotian crises, was reported to have criticized in a discussion Monday with Republican leaders at Gettysburg, Pa., the military tactics employed by the invading Cuban rebel forces.

Without attempting to assess any blame, Eisenhower was quoted as wondering if the Joint Chiefs of Staff had been consulted in any detail about the mounting of the invasion.

The former president was reported to have expressed the view that most of the heavy military equipment was loaded into a single old Liberty ship that could hardly withstand any shore battery fire or aerial attack. He reportedly said this seemed inconceivable to him.

As an old military man, Eisenhower was represented as feeling that anybody who had studied the battle of Gallipoli would have known in advance that it would be almost impossible to make the

Parley Eyed To Map New Ruling Unit

End Of Fighting In Sight As Neutralist Calls For Meeting

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—With an end of the fighting apparently in sight, Prince Souvanna Phouma today assumed the dominant role in the formation of a new Laotian government.

The "neutralist" prince, 60, recognized by the Communists as the legal premier of Laos, called a conference of the kingdom's political leaders for Friday as both sides went ahead to put into effect a cease-fire in the civil war.

Prince Boun Oum's Western-backed government did not immediately accept Souvanna Phouma's proposal for a parley at the village of Ban Namone, about 55 miles north of Vientiane. But the regime's strongman, and deputy premier, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, told newsmen he expects political meetings will begin before the end of the week.

The political parley will try to work out a formula for a new coalition government representing Phoumi's right-wing forces, Souvanna's neutral supporters and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels headed by Souvanna's half brother, Prince Souphanouvong. It also will discuss Laotian representation at the 14-nation Geneva conference, scheduled to meet May 12 to chart the future of Laos.

Souvanna, who on his recent tour of Europe and Communist Asia allied himself openly with the Soviet Union and Red China, appeared by far the strongest contender to head any coalition government. The pro-Communist fighting forces supporting him hold a good portion of the country and have held the military initiative conclusively for several months.

Government and rebel officers were to meet today to iron out details of the cease-fire. The meeting was planned for an area on the front north of Vientiane, with both sides to pull back four miles from the meeting place. Gen. Phoumi said there had been some disagreement over the exact site but indicated it was not considered serious.

With an end to the shooting war in prospect, Vientiane's right-wing officials and Western diplomats braced for a fight on the political front to keep Laos from going Communist.

"Now we really have to go to work, and it's not going to be easy," said one Western diplomat.

Boun Oum, 57, easy-going premier backed by the West, has said he is willing to step aside in the interests of peace. Gen. Nosavan, a staunch anti-Communist, has bitterly opposed Souvanna because of his collaboration with the Reds.

Vote Board May End Official Count Today

The Columbiana County Election Board should finish work sometime today on the offical canvass of returns from the primary elections Tuesday, Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, chairman, reported.

The board started the official canvass this morning at its office on W. 6th St. The job sometimes requires two to three days following a countywide general election, but since the voting Tuesday involved only part of the precincts and the returns were light the job will be completed quickly, Stacey indicated.

The count made Tuesday night shortly after the polls closed was complete, but unofficial. Today's tabulation will furnish the figures that will be certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus.

Some Thoughts On The Primary

The battlelines are drawn locally for the Nov. 7 general election as the result of Tuesday's primary which set up the opposing Republican and Democratic tickets.

In reviewing the primary, two things come to mind:

1.—The continued apathy of the voters.

2.—The kick in the political trousers which was administered to six incumbent councilmen who had endeavored to find an answer to the municipality's financial problem.

Apathy toward a primary election is nothing new. Records show that it is the rule rather than the exception. Tuesday's total vote, however, was even more disturbing than usual since it represented the lightest turnout in a primary here in the last 16 years.

There may not be an answer. Campaigns of various types have been conducted over the years in an effort to stir voter interest, but more often than not the results have been negligible.

With the hope, however, that some day the tide may change in the other direction, this is another appeal for the individual voter to become more conscious of the privilege that is his or hers. What an uproar there would be if the right were withdrawn!

Relative to point two. The six Democratic incumbents who will leave office as the result of Tuesday's balloting must be shaking their heads in disgust and wonderment as to what one has to do to be considered a good councilman deserving of another term.

Since they were turned out by the very voters who saw fit to put them into office in the first place, there is little doubt but that the city income tax was the principal reason for their defeat Tuesday.

Paradoxically, we felt the tax made the legislators deserving of renomination rather than defeat, since they had the courage to tackle a situation which called for action. Their concern was for the over-all welfare of the community at the risk of political suicide, which has come to pass.

Certainly they are more to be commended for having tried to do something than they would have been had they sat back in their chairs, mumbled in their beards, so to speak, and done nothing. Legislators who stand by the courage of their convictions and attempt a sound approach to a problem are to be preferred to those who stand by and do nothing for fear of the consequences.

And with it all, there still has been presented no fairer way to meet the financial dilemma than through a city income tax.

Plenty To Show, Little To Eat

The Soviet Union and its Communist cohorts put on their best bibs and tuckers for May Day celebrations, but lurking in the background were some of the shortcomings of their system.

Reports out of Russia said the holiday mood in Moscow was tempered by shortages of meat in the local shops and Red soothsayers were quick to point out in their holiday speeches that all efforts would be made to produce goods and foods to meet the citizens' needs.

For many Muscovites the holiday picture must have been a grim contrast. While Khrushchev's clan paraded the finest in space equipment and armaments, the citizen had only to take a glance at the nearest butcher shop to read a sign "No Meat Today."

The promise of alleviating this shortage appears to contain little substance. Latest figures, released this week, show 1961 meat production running at only 87 per cent of 1960.

The Russians have made advances in space but they are having trouble with cattle.

Red China, also a great May Day celebrator, has its share of headaches in the fundamental field of keeping body and soul together.

An Associated Press dispatch out of Hong Kong reports thousands of medical workers in Red China have been sent to the countryside to fight diseases caused by nationwide famine and "irresponsible" party officials.

The move followed unusually strong criticism of officials by Red China's press.

Refugees from food-short China say malnutrition is the main cause for rampant disease.

The report quotes one person who left recently that "bloated faces and limbs are a common sight in every village."

These Communist nations now doing their utmost to sway the rest of the world in their direction appear like the downtrodden actor going after the starring role in a Broadway hit.

He wears flashy clothes but returns each night to a shabby apartment and barren cupboards.

Appreciation Day

The tables were turned in a pleasing manner during Wednesday's assembly at East Liverpool High School — the teachers were on the receiving end of tributes delivered by their students.

The occasion was the first Teacher Appreciation Assembly sponsored by the Student Council.

Teachers are human like the rest of us and daily tangle with life's materialistic problems. More important than material things, however, must be the knowledge that they are liked and respected by those in their classrooms.

Wednesday's assembly left no doubt as to the feeling of students at ELHS. They indicated quite clearly they appreciate the time and effort which teachers expend on their behalf.

The Student Council can be proud of its latest endeavor. The Teacher Appreciation Assembly is one that should become an annual affair.

'You Monsters Hold Your Fire'

It is not so hard, after all, to get the hang of a cease-fire order in Laos. We've had the same thing here for generations.

At one time everybody banged away with guns at everybody else, the way it is in television westerns, only not so glamorous. When things got so bad no one felt safe, they issued a cease-fire order.

Everybody turned in his gun. That was the regulation. The only people permitted to carry guns any more were responsible for enforcing the cease-fire order.

And what happened?

The only people who actually ceased firing were the ones who obeyed the cease-fire order. They couldn't shoot even if they felt like it because they had turned in their guns.

But some people who had no intention of obeying a cease-fire order turned in the guns they weren't planning to use. They kept the rest.

They estimated that their power to terrorize people would increase in direct ratio to the decrease in the total number of guns. The better enforced the cease-fire order was, the stronger they would become, because they would be the only people with the will to use firepower to gain their own way.

To this day that has continued to be true. The disarmament of the rest of us gave the gunman, the lawbreaker, the plug-ugly, the hoodlum and the racketeer a special hold over the public. When the police cannot cope with their power, the effect is to subsidize the wielders of illegal power.

That will be the result of a cease-fire order in Laos. The wielders of illegal power will be getting rid of most of the home-grown resistance to their hoodlum antics. They should have a ball.

Big American corporation, Olin-Mathieson, held its annual stockholders meeting in such a remote spot that only one stockholder showed up. Place called Saltsville in Virginia. Lone stockholder to find it was reportedly a Mrs. Adams. But this is an error, since we got there, wearing a Daniel Boone costume and sending Indian scouts out ahead. The president opened the session with "I am happy to welcome our stockholders," which indicated he had astigmatism. He asked if there were any questions and Mrs. Adams joined us in these inquiries:

Fiction Can Be Stranger Than Truth

Goldberg To Study Swedish Technique

By Victor Riesel

As they say in show biz, Arthur Goldberg has tuxedo and is willing to travel—all the way to Sweden to discover how that kingdom has averted major strikes for 16 years, how it worked itself up to the highest living standard in Europe and the lowest unemployment in the world, though heavily automated.

Victor Riesel

Not only has there not been a major strike since the end of World War II, but fully 98 per cent of all labor-management negotiations were peacefully settled last year.

When the prime minister of Sweden told this to the President of the United States, John Kennedy suggested to Mr. Goldberg that he go.

The secretary of labor will be there about July 1. He'll find a unique capitalist kingdom which provides all the welfare fringes over which so many of our strikes start here.

THE BIGGEST differences between Sweden and the United States, it was explained by Thorbjorn Carlsson, labor attache to the Swedish Embassy, is in the handling of welfare fringes.

"Much of what you deal with," said Mr. Carlsson, "as fringe benefits in the agreements, are in Sweden taken care of through social legislation.

"Thus, old age pensions and supplementary pensions, free medical care for everybody, maternity grants, on-the-job accident insurance and three weeks vacation with full pay are regulated by legislation, applying, of course, not only to organized labor but to every Swedish citizen and to every foreign worker registered in Sweden."

U.S. Labor Secretary Goldberg also is interested in studying the Swedish Royal Labor Market Board, which has kept unemployment down to 1.8 per cent—and industrial profits high. That's quite a royal trick.

No sleight of hand. Here's how it's done:

Most unique is the board's help to workers who travel across the country searching for jobs.

THE SWEDISH government simply pays the job seeker's travel and living expenses. Say an unemployed Stockholm resident hears of a job 200 miles up north. He applies to the Royal Board. He gets his fare and per diem to make the trip and apply.

If he's successful, the government pays the expenses to move his family ahd home furnishings cross-country.

If he can't find quarters immediately, the board helps him maintain his family back home until he can find suitable living quarters in the new town..

This would be the equivalent of shifting a jobless textile worker from New England to a new mill in California.

Most important—the money is an outright grant. The worker does not have to return a penny.

If the U.S. government moved workers in the same proportion as the Swedes have, Mr. Goldberg told me the other day, the United States would be shifting hundreds of thousands of workers.

Another board activity is its placement of national orders with firms which notify it that business is running low and layoffs of manpower are looming.

THE ROYAL BOARD then asks the Swedish telephone and telegraph company, or the state railroads, or the defense department to shift some business to the needy firms.

If this doesn't help and men are laid off, the government makes available complete retraining in a national school—regardless of the workers' ages. During this period, which can run as long as 22 months, the worker is paid some 70 per cent of his previous wage.

Furthermore, he receives allowances for his family. This money is paid by the board, even if he takes night work and earns extra pay.

If finally unemployment can't be avoided, most of the jobless are supported by a voluntary insurance fund. It is administered by the unions. It is paid for partly by employed workers and partly by the government. The employers pay none of these costs.

Also the government gives the corporations a tax break if the industrialists use some of their profits to put up new plants and create new boom areas. All this Mr. Goldberg will study and report back to the President.

It all might show up in some presidential message to Congress one of these days.

About Latin America

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Many Americans probably think of Latin America vaguely as a land of mananas and bananas without knowledge of the life there or even interest in why millions south of the United States may not be madly in love with it.

Yet, many millions there live under wretched conditions. And it was wretched conditions that give Fidel Castro a strong popular support for his revolution in Cuba.

In Latin America in the days and years ahead there probably will be more revolutions, based either on discontent and desire for better living or Communist conniving, or both.

After President Kennedy made a broad goodwill gesture toward Latin America—with a request to Congress for a $500 million aid fund—he let the invasion by Cuban rebels begin.

When it ended in fiasco there was shuddering in the United States that the assault on Castro, with American help, would do this country additional harm among Latin Americans sympathetic to Castro's reforms, if not to Castro.

Meanwhile Kennedy had sent his top adviser on the area, Adolph A. Berle Jr., down for a look around. Shortly after the Cuban invasion failed Berle told a Senate committee opinion against communism is crystalizing in Latin America.

This is the rosy view.

But a couple of months ago a Democrat and a Republican, Sens. Wayne Morse of Oregon and George D. Aiken of Vermont, made a report on Latin-American conditions and attitudes which give some insight into the problems and thinking of the people.

They said: "All of our technical assistance, all of our economic aid, will fail of their purpose —in fact, they may only make matters worse—if they are not accompanied by vigorous efforts and far-reaching institutional changes on the part of the Latin-American peoples themselves.

"In general terms, the kinds of changes which must be made are those which will result in a more nearly equal distribution of opportunity to share in the benefits of economic progress.

"Although there are wide differences among Latin - American countries and generalizations, therefore, usually oversimplify the problem, it may be said that Latin America as a whole is characterized by oligarchic economies and the absence of a sizable middle class.

"Land ownership is characteristically concentrated in a few large and underproductive holdings. (Note: One of Castro's first promises to the Cuban people before he got power was to give them land for themselves.)

Historic York

The casual motorist may not realize it, but when he hurries through Pennsylvania's modern, industrial center at York he is in a former capital of his country.

Historic York was the hub of Colonial affairs during the blackest period of the Revolution.

Late in September 1777, British troops had occupied Philadelphia, seat of the Continental Congress. The delegates fled briefly to Lancaster, then crossed the Susquehanna River to set up safer headquarters at the thriving frontier town of York.

From Sept. 30, 1777, until June 27, 1778, Colonial leaders destined for America's hall of fame walked the streets of this uneasy capital of a precarious rebel union.

Among those dealing with the pressing problems of war and the vague national future were John and Samuel Adams, John Hancock, Gouverneur Morris, Charles Carroll and Thomas Paine.

The Silent Service

Right Or Wrong, Dulles Is Wrong

Allen Welsh Dulles, the Central Intelligence Agency's beleaguered director, is probably the only official of his stature in Washington who has to take his lumps in absolute silence when foreign adventures go wrong.

He also has the dubious distinction of being the only top government executive in the capital who gets absolutely no public credit when things in his area go right. Perhaps the President and a very few others at the top may pat his shoulder in private for a success.

Mr. Dulles, however, is a philosophical man. After many years in the cloak and dagger field or on its periphery, he is more or less resigned to this situation, the nature of his business being what it is—secret.

In recent years, the Dulles head remained bowed, with lips buttoned to criticism over alleged failure of his CIA to foresee, and give warning on, the leftist coup in Iraq; Russia's Sputnik lofting; the Suez invasion and the explosive consequences of a shot-down U2 spy plane on the eve of an Eisenhower-Khrushchev conference. (Only a few do, and should, know, whether Mr. Dulles did foresee and forewarn on these events).

Then came the Cuban fiasco.

THE HURRICANE of criticism over that one is still raging. Its result may well be the replacement of Mr. Dulles, whether the fault lies with him or not.

The Dulles' lips remain publicly sealed on Cuba. But the man is human. So the CIA released a news-tidbit which those in the know knew bore the hallmark—the style, if you will — of Allen Welsh Dulles.

The tidbit: The CIA had nothing, positively nothing to do with the abortive French generals' rebellion in Algeria!

This was the head of the CIA blowing off just a whisp of frustrated steam—but on a topic that could do no harm.

How do you create a mold that will produce a man to be the top intelligence man for the earth's most powerful nation?

The directive of the National Security Council which created the CIA under the National Security Act of 1947, said this man should co-ordinate the intelligence activities of the several government departments concerned; advise the NSC on intelligence matters; make recommendations to the NSC; correlate and evaluate intelligence; provide "appropriate dissemination" of it to proper government agencies, and perform missions for the HSC.

The first thinking was that such a man should be from the military. Four military men were utilized between 1947 and 1953, when Mr. Dulles, a civilian, took over.

Mr. Dulles was one of the first to be told he would stay on when Mr. Kennedy was inaugurated Jan. 20, 1961.

FAMILY BACKGROUND and his own early upbringing would seem to have destined Mr. Dulles for diplomacy, not directing deeds of derring-do.

His father was a Presbyterian minister but on the paternal side, a relative had been ambassador to Britain in the Hayes administration. On the maternal side, another had been President Benjamin Harrison's secretary of state.

Mr. Dulles (born April 7, 1893, at Watertown, N.Y.) evinced his own interest in foreign affairs at 8, when, in 1901, he wrote a critique of the Boer War, then going on. He attended public schools at Aurburn, N.Y., the Ecole Alsatienne, at Paris, and then won a BA at Princeton in 1914.

He spent a year in the Far East and India, teaching English for a while in an Indian school at Allahabad. He returned to Princeton, received an MA there in 1916.

The next few years found him serving at the World War I Paris Peace Conference; the American Embassy at Berlin; on a special commission for postwar Germany, and as chief of the State Department's Near East desk.

Still later, he served his government at naval and disarmament conferences at Geneva. In 1916, after he won a law degree at George Washington University, the State Department offered him the legation counselor post at Peiping at $8,000 a year, a salary he was already earning.

MR. DULLES thought he was worth more but his superiors didn't, so he quit. There was quite a bit of newspaper editorial discussion about low diplomatic pay, a topic still being discussed, with little done about it.

Deciding that law was his best bet, Mr. Dulles joined the New York law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell of which his eldest brother, the late John Foster Dulles, later secretary of state, was a partner. One might say this step led Allen Dulles to intelligence work.

It happened that the law firm had many European financial clients and Mr. Dulles helped service them and engaged in lots of foreign travel.

When the late Gen. Wiliam J. (Wild Bill) Donovan headed the Office of Strategic Services (OSS) after America entered World War II, he wanted particularly men who knew European finance and "strategic areas." Allen Dulles was a natural candidate.

It was a good choice. His exploits as an OSS type in Switzerland and Italy are still talked of with awe and the rewards included the American Medal of Merit, a presidential citation, the Medal of Freedom, Belgium's Leopold Cross, and France's Legion of Honor.

Mr. Dulles has been married for 41 years to the former Clgver Todd, and they have two daughters and a son. At 68, Mr. Dulles carries his 6-foot frame erectly, though his gray hair is thinning and his tennis and golf aren't what they were. But he still wields an expert fishing rod.

Letter To The Editor

How come the city does not have any money to pave a few streets, but they say they have money to pay out $45,000 to buy a building to tear down to put in a parking lot?

They are going to have to spend another $10,000 to tear it down and pave it and put in parking meters on top of that. They can't do that for nothing. The businessman is the only one that is going to benefit from it.

The way I see it, that $55,000 would go a long way toward paving the streets in this city that are so bad you scarcely can drive a car over them. But there is nothing done about them. Why can't the street department tear up those brick streets and smooth them out and turn the bricks over and make the streets smooth again? Those are brand new bricks on the underside. Minerva St., Ambrose Ave. and Avondale St. are just about beyond using. I could name a lot more streets that are the same way. But there is an example.

But they think it's more important to make a little parking lot with all that money. I think that money should be put to a lot better use. So everyone could benefit from it. There are food stores and a furniture store in the city that wanted parking for their customers and they put them in. So if the others want parking lots for their customers let them build their own. That money is needed elsewhere.

This city has always been in the same rut. When they really need something they never have the money for it. But let something silly come up and they can always get the money together for it. I think it's time to put a stop to it.

Some Thoughts On The Primary

The battlelines are drawn locally for the Nov. 7 general election as the result of Tuesday's primary which set up the opposing Republican and Democratic tickets.

In reviewing the primary, two things come to mind:

1.—The continued apathy of the voters.

2.—The kick in the political trousers which was administered to six incumbent councilmen who had endeavored to find an answer to the municipality's financial problem.

Apathy toward a primary election is nothing new. Records show that it is the rule rather than the exception. Tuesday's total vote, however, was even more disturbing than usual since it represented the lightest turnout in a primary here in the last 16 years.

There may not be an answer. Campaigns of various types have been conducted over the years in an effort to stir voter interest, but more often than not the results have been negligible.

With the hope, however, that some day the tide may change in the other direction, this is another appeal for the individual voter to become more conscious of the privilege that is his or hers. What an uproar there would be if the right were withdrawn!

Relative to point two. The six Democratic incumbents who will leave office as the result of Tuesday's balloting must be shaking their heads in disgust and wonderment as to what one has to do to be considered a good councilman deserving of another term.

Since they were turned out by the very voters who saw fit to put them into office in the first place, there is little doubt but that the city income tax was the principal reason for their defeat Tuesday.

Paradoxically, we felt the tax made the legislators deserving of renomination rather than defeat, since they had the courage to tackle a situation which called for action. Their concern was for the over-all welfare of the community at the risk of political suicide, which has come to pass.

Certainly they are more to be commended for having tried to do something than they would have been had they sat back in their chairs, mumbled in their beards, so to speak, and done nothing. Legislators who stand by the courage of their convictions and attempt a sound approach to a problem are to be preferred to those who stand by and do nothing for fear of the consequences.

And with it all, there still has been presented no fairer way to meet the financial dilemma than through a city income tax.

Plenty To Show, Little To Eat

The Soviet Union and its Communist cohorts put on their best bibs and tuckers for May Day celebrations, but lurking in the background were some of the shortcomings of their system.

Reports out of Russia said the holiday mood in Moscow was tempered by shortages of meat in the local shops and Red soothsayers were quick to point out in their holiday speeches that all efforts would be made to produce goods and foods to meet the citizens' needs.

For many Muscovites the holiday picture must have been a grim contrast. While Khrushchev's clan paraded the finest in space equipment and armaments, the citizen had only to take a glance at the nearest butcher shop to read a sign "No Meat Today."

The promise of alleviating this shortage appears to contain little substance. Latest figures, released this week, show 1961 meat production running at only 87 per cent of 1960.

The Russians have made advances in space but they are having trouble with cattle.

Red China, also a great May Day celebrator, has its share of headaches in the fundamental field of keeping body and soul together.

An Associated Press dispatch out of Hong Kong reports thousands of medical workers in Red China have been sent to the countryside to fight diseases caused by nationwide famine and "irresponsible" party officials.

The move followed unusually strong criticism of officials by Red China's press.

Refugees from food-short China say malnutrition is the main cause for rampant disease.

The report quotes one person who left recently that "bloated faces and limbs are a common sight in every village."

These Communist nations now doing their utmost to sway the rest of the world in their direction appear like the downtrodden actor going after the starring role in a Broadway hit.

He wears flashy clothes but returns each night to a shabby apartment and barren cupboards.

Appreciation Day

The tables were turned in a pleasing manner during Wednesday's assembly at East Liverpool High School — the teachers were on the receiving end of tributes delivered by their students.

The occasion was the first Teacher Appreciation Assembly sponsored by the Student Council.

Teachers are human like the rest of us and daily tangle with life's materialistic problems. More important than material things, however, must be the knowledge that they are liked and respected by those in their classrooms.

Wednesday's assembly left no doubt as to the feeling of students at ELHS. They indicated quite clearly they appreciate the time and effort which teachers expend on their behalf.

The Student Council can be proud of its latest endeavor. The Teacher Appreciation Assembly is one that should become an annual affair.

'You Monsters Hold Your Fire'

It is not so hard, after all, to get the hang of a cease-fire order in Laos. We've had the same thing here for generations.

At one time everybody banged away with guns at everybody else, the way it is in television westerns, only not so glamorous. When things got so bad no one felt safe, they issued a cease-fire order.

Everybody turned in his gun. That was the regulation. The only people permitted to carry guns any more were responsible for enforcing the cease-fire order.

And what happened?

The only people who actually ceased firing were the ones who obeyed the cease-fire order. They couldn't shoot even if they felt like it because they had turned in their guns.

But some people who had no intention of obeying a cease-fire order turned in the guns they weren't planning to use. They kept the rest.

They estimated that their power to terrorize people would increase in direct ratio to the decrease in the total number of guns. The better enforced the cease-fire order was, the stronger they would become, because they would be the only people with the will to use firepower to gain their own way.

To this day that has continued to be true. The disarmament of the rest of us gave the gunman, the lawbreaker, the pluguly, the hoodlum and the racketeer a special hold over the public. When the police cannot cope with their power, the effect is to subsidize the wielders of illegal power.

That will be the result of a cease-fire order in Laos. The wielders of illegal power will be getting rid of most of the homegrown resistance to their hoodlum antics. They should have a ball.

Big American corporation, Olin-Mathieson, held its annual stockholders meeting in such a remote spot that only one stockholder showed up. Place called Saltsville in Virginia. Lone stockholder to find it was reportedly a Mrs. Adams. But this is an error, since we got there, wearing a Daniel Boone costume and sending Indian scouts out ahead. The president opened the session with "I am happy to welcome our stockholders," which indicated he had astigmatism. He asked if there were any questions and Mrs. Adams joined us in these inquiries:

1. Will we be forgiven for locating this meeting.?

2. How much has the company saved through escaping custom of serving chicken salad, ham sandwiches, etc., and does this indicate Olin - Mathieson is against free lunch?

Fiction Can Be Stranger Than Truth

Goldberg To Study Swedish Technique

By Victor Riesel

As they say in show biz, Arthur Goldberg has tuxedo and is willing to travel—all the way to Sweden to discover how that kingdom has averted major strikes for 16 years, how it worked itself up to the highest living standard in Europe and the lowest unemployment in the world, though heavily automated.

Victor Riesel

Not only has there not been a major strike since the end of World War II, but fully 98 per cent of all labor-management negotiations were peacefully settled last year.

When the prime minister of Sweden told this to the President of the United States, John Kennedy suggested to Mr. Goldberg that he go.

The secretary of labor will be there about July 1. He'll find a unique capitalist kingdom which provides all the welfare fringes over which so many of our strikes start here.

THE BIGGEST differences between Sweden and the United States, it was explained by Thorbjorn Carlsson, labor attache to the Swedish Embassy, is in the handling of welfare fringes.

"Much of what you deal with," said Mr. Carlsson, "as fringe benefits in the agreements, are in Sweden taken care of through social legislation.

"Thus, old age pensions and supplementary pensions, free medical care for everybody, maternity grants, on-the-job accident insurance and three weeks vacation with full pay are regulated by legislation, applying, of course, not only to organized labor but to every Swedish citizen and to every foreign worker registered in Sweden."

U.S. Labor Secretary Goldberg also is interested in studying the Swedish Royal Labor Market Board, which has kept unemployment down to 1.8 per cent—and industrial profits high. That's quite a royal trick.

No sleight of hand. Here's how it's done:

Most unique is the board's help to workers who travel across the country searching for jobs.

THE SWEDISH government simply pays the job seeker's travel and living expenses. Say an unemployed Stockholm resident hears of a job 200 miles up north. He applies to the Royal Board. He gets his fare and per diem to make the trip and apply.

If he's successful, the government pays the expenses to move his family ahd home furnishings cross-country.

If he can't find quarters immediately, the board helps him maintain his family back home until he can find suitable living quarters in the new town..

This would be the equivalent of shifting a jobless textile worker from New England to a new mill in California.

Most important—the money is an outright grant. The worker does not have to return a penny.

If the U.S. government moved workers in the same proportion as the Swedes have, Mr. Goldberg told me the other day, the United States would be shifting hundreds of thousands of workers.

Another board activity is its placement of national orders with firms which notify it that business is running low and layoffs of manpower are looming.

THE ROYAL BOARD then asks the Swedish telephone and telegraph company, or the state railroads, or the defense department to shift some business to the needy firms.

If this doesn't help and men are laid off, the government makes available complete retraining in a national school—regardless of the workers' ages. During this period, which can run as long as 22 months, the worker is paid some 70 per cent of his previous wage.

Furthermore, he receives allowances for his family. This money is paid by the board, even if he takes night work and earns extra pay.

If finally unemployment can't be avoided, most of the jobless are supported by a voluntary insurance fund. It is administered by the unions. It is paid for partly by employed workers and partly by the government. The employers pay none of these costs.

Also the government gives the corporations a tax break if the industrialists use some of their profits to put up new plants and create new boom areas. All this Mr. Goldberg will study and report back to the President.

It all might show up in some presidential message to Congress one of these days.

About Latin America

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Many Americans probably think of Latin America vaguely as a land of mananas and bananas without knowledge of the life there or even interest in why millions south of the United States may not be madly in love with it.

Yet, many millions there live under wretched conditions. And it was wretched conditions that give Fidel Castro a strong popular support for his revolution in Cuba.

In Latin America in the days and years ahead there probably will be more revolutions, based either on discontent and desire for better living or Communist conniving, or both.

After President Kennedy made a broad goodwill gesture toward Latin America—with a request to Congress for a $500 million aid fund—he let the invasion by Cuban rebels begin.

When it ended in fiasco there was shuddering in the United States that the assault on Castro, with American help, would do this country additional harm among Latin Americans sympathetic to Castro's reforms, if not to Castro.

Meanwhile Kennedy had sent his top adviser on the area, Adolph A. Berle Jr., down for a look around. Shortly after the Cuban invasion failed Berle told a Senate committee opinion against communism is crystalizing in Latin America.

This is the rosy view.

But a couple of months ago a Democrat and a Republican, Sens. Wayne Morse of Oregon and George D. Aiken of Vermont, made a report on Latin-American conditions and attitudes which give some insight into the problems and thinking of the people.

They said: "All of our technical assistance, all of our economic aid, will fail of their purpose —in fact, they may only make matters worse—if they are not accompanied by vigorous efforts and far-reaching institutional changes on the part of the Latin-American peoples themselves.

"In general terms, the kinds of changes which must be made are those which will result in a more nearly equal distribution of opportunity to share in the benefits of economic progress.

"Although there are wide differences among Latin - American countries and generalizations, therefore, usually oversimplify the problem, it may be said that Latin America as a whole is characterized by oligarchic economies and the absence of a sizable middle class.

"Land ownership is characteristically concentrated in a few large and underproductive holdings. (Note: One of Castro's first promises to the Cuban people before he got power was to give them land for themselves.)

"The tax structure is typically regressive, and such income taxes as are levied are unreasonably low and frequently uncollected. Inadequate taxes measured in terms of ability to pay any tax evasions cry out for tax reform in many areas of Latin America.

"There is no broad base from which to draw support for public services.

"Education is generally available only for the elite. The illiteracy is appalling. Cities tend to consist of luxury housing surrounded by appalling slums. Many of the wealthy have little faith in the economy or political stability of the wealthy have little faith in the economy or political stability of their own country, as is demonstrated by the bank accounts which they have abroad and by the chronic flight of capital to the United States and western Europe.

kind of landing that was attempted.

In 1915 the Allies attempted landings on Turkey's coastline in an attempt to seize the Dardanelles but were repulsed with heavy losses after months of fighting.

The former president was said to have made it clear he was speaking from a military standpoint only. He is known to have told the Republicans he feels they should avoid criticizing Kennedy in the grave crises in the world today.

Some of these leaders said it was Eisenhower's view that if possible the United States should avoid acting alone in attempting to solve any crisis. They quoted him as favoring cooperation with allies.

Eisenhower's reported view that much of the military equipment was loaded onto a single ship virtually coincided with information pieced together by a U.S. official in the days immediately following the mid-April invasion.

From a variety of sources it was reported then that the 1,200 men who would become the invading force were assembled in the United States and went to Guatemala for training.

Sometime in March, the sources said, the Guatemalan government served notice that the trainees must leave the country soon. This impelled the invaders to make their attempt whether they were ready or not, it was reported.

The situation in Guatemala was said to have been an important element in persuading the Joint Chiefs of Staff and other top administration advisers to go along with the invasion attempt even though there was some reservation in high quarters in Washington as to whether the force was adequate and the necessary uprisings inside Cuba would develop. They never did.

In subsequent days, in a post mortem examination of U.S. government connections with the invasion operation, administration informants told newsmen privately:

There was complete concurrence among the President, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, as well as other policymakers in the National Security Council, that the United States should not veto the operation.

The Cuban revolutionary leaders had been anxious to go ahead with their plan and they confidently expected it would set off Fidel Castro's armed forces and result in popular uprisings.

Last week, a top U.S. Official said the Central Intelligence Agency correctly reported the Castro regime's military power and the temper of the Cuban people before Kennedy okayed the invasion.

This statement clashed with views previously expressed by a number of administration authorities that intelligence errors contributed heavily to the failure of the landing attempt.

Edmund Steel of Steubenville, track supervisor, said the work is slated to start in a week or 10 day and will continue throughout the summer.

He said abutments of overhead bridges at 2nd and 3rd Sts. and crossings at 5th, 6th and 9th Sts. will be repaired, and the track right-of-way through the city will be cleaned. Steel said a crew of 40 men will be working later on installation of new ties and other improvements.

A work train will spray weed-killer along the tracks. Steel said there is a lot of rubbish along the tracks not put there by the railroad, but which the company will clean this time. "However, it is up to the city to prohibit further rubbish dumping," he warned.

Mayor Ray Collins reported he had conferred with Sheriff Joseph Manypenny concerning assistance by deputies with police service in Chester when the two city officers are off duty.

The mayor said the sheriff agreed to "co-operate" at all times, and there is a cruiser in the area which may be called on the police radio system.

Mayor Collins reported he had also conferred with a representative of the State Road Commission, who said the state will co-operate with the city in street and road work.

The mayor is slated to meet with a commission aide and state engineers late today to discuss projects.

Council granted permission to William Harper Jr., president of the Charioteers Car Club, for members to paint curbing at bus stops, school zones and crosswalks. The city will provide yellow paint and brushes. The club, which adopted the project last week, will start work Saturday.

At the request of Bishop, Council agreed to permit the street department to scrape the 10th St. playground.

Bills paid amounted to $673. Receipts totaled $1,070.

A $10 donation to the post-prom party May 25 was approved.

Plans were discussed for a bake sale in conjunction with an open air concert in June.

Mrs. Rhea Jones and Mrs. Andrew Rosso were named as the auditing committee.

The new bell lyre and stand and bass drum, which were purchased by the organization, were displayed by Helen Stobinsky, band director.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. George Gehring and Mrs. Meissner.

Minerva Area Youth Hurt In Cycle Crash

A Minerva area motorcyclist was injured in a traffic crash at Homeworth Wednesday and a Kensington motorist was cited after a three-car crash on Route 30 near Bayard early today, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Richard Gallina, 16, of Minerva R. D. 3 was taken to Alliance City Hospital after his cycle collided with a car driven by Carolyn Nicholson, 33, of Homeworth R. D. on the Georgetown Rd. at Homeworth at 2:15 p. m. yesterday.

Officers said the woman made a left turn in front of the approaching cycle. The youth suffered fractures of both arms and multiple bruises and abrasions. She was charged with making an improper left turn.

Henry Davis Jr., 24, of Kensington was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after his car rammed the rear of one, knocking it into a third on Route 30 about two miles east of Minerva at 2:10 a. m. today.

The patrol said a car driven by Clyde Huggins, 45, of Mount Vernon was pushing a disabled auto operated by Donald Huggins, 22, of the Naval Air Station at Washington.

Davis's car hit the rear of the older man's auto, knocking it into the other.

James Pyles, 45, of Cleveland was cited for reckless operation yesterday after his car sideswiped one driven by Wayne Dillon, 37, of Rogers R. D. on Route 170 about three miles south of Negley. Damage was minor.

Control Hints Given For Livestock Flies

LISBON — Control of flies on livestock or around the farm buildings can be accomplished through sanitation and the proper use of the newer chemicals, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

Dry or wet baits may be used inside barns as well as residual wall sprays. "Foggers" and atomizres are useful in spraying both barn walls and livestock.

Information on the rates of the various chemicals may be obtained in the county extension service office, Lower said.

Ohio Annexation Bill Tops Hurdle In Senate

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The bill in the General Assembly to modernize Ohio's annexation laws cleared the first hurdle Wednesday on its third lap around the legislative course.

The Senate Judiciary Committee voted 5-4 to recommend the bill's passage. A similar motion last week failed by one vote.

Among those who voted to approve the measure this week were Sen. Donald C. Steiner, R-Canton, who was absent last week; Sen. J. G. Simpson, R-Forest, who abstained last week, and Sen. Kenneth F. Berry, R-Coshocton, who said he reserved the right to change his mind if and when the bill comes to a vote on the Senate floor.

In two previous Assembly sessions the same bill has passed the House by wide margins and then failed to get through the Senate.

Up to Rules Committee

There is serious question whether it will get past the Senate Rules Committee this time, where it must be approved before it can reach the floor. That's where it met death in 1959.

In its present form the measure would:

ALLOW nonresident owners and corporations to sign annexation petitions.

REQUIRE a vote among only those residents who live in the area proposed for annexation rather than among the residents of the entire township.

REDUCE the time limits for action at various points in the annexation process.

REDUCE from five to two years the waiting period before resubmission of an annexation proposal that has been defeated at the polls.

TIGHTEN UP the restrictions on removing names from petitions after they have been submitted to county commissioners.

School Provision Stricken

An original provision to eliminate the approval of the State Board of Education on annexation proposals that would split school districts was stricken from the bill before it was brought to a committee vote last week.

Supporting the measure are the Ohio Municipal League, many Chambers of Commerce, including the Ohio Chamber, and the Ohio Home Builders Association.

Strongly opposed to it is the Ohio State Association of Township Trustees and Clerks.

Numbers Bill Argued

In other action Wednesday the Senate committee held its first hearing on a House-passed bill to impose stricter penalties on numbers racket operators. The bill would also include possession of numbers tickets as a violation with a lesser penalty on the first offense.

Representatives of the attorney general's office and the Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police spoke in favor of the bill.

New Rim Developed, Goodyear Announces

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. announced today it has developed a new rim that virtually eliminates excessive tire wear and vehicle vibration.

R. J. Burns, general manager of Goodyear's metal products division, said the rim is built to within .031 of an inch of a true circle and is designed for both disc and cast wheels. "A flast or 'out of round' rim is a major cause of abnormal tire wear and vehicle vibration," Burns said. "The result is an egg-like rolling action which literally pounds flat spots into the tire tread."

Bond Issue Assembly Set At Newell

As part of a county-wide campaign to promote a proposed $5¼-million bond issue for school expansion and modernization, a special assembly will be held Friday morning at 10 in Wells High School in Newell for students and the public.

The program will include talks by Gary Daugherty, a junior, and Mary Nease, senior, on their visit April 26 to Newark schools.

The Newark schools inspected by the two students and Principal E. Russell Slack are similar in design to two new high schools proposed for Pughtown and Weirton if the bond issue is approved in a special election May 16.

The students will screen color slides of the Newark buildings in addition to relating their impressions.

Architect's sketches of the new senior high school proposed for Northern Hancock County will be on display in the school until 9 p. m. and Newell residents are urged to view them, Principal Slack said.

The Newark schools have been rated among the top five systems in the country by the Ford Foundation.

The bond issue is proposed to underwrite the cost of constructing new high schools in Pughtown and Weirton, a new junior high for Weirton, a new elementary building for Chester and improvements to Chester and Wells High Schools.

In 1930, Bill Terry collected 254 hits for the New York Giants. He hit .401 that season and is the last National Leaguer to reach that charmed figure.

Bond Issue Assembly Set At Newell

As part of a county-wide campaign to promote a proposed $5¼-million bond issue for school expansion and modernization, a special assembly will be held Friday morning at 10 in Wells High School in Newell for students and the public.

The program will include talks by Gary Daugherty, a junior, and Mary Nease, senior, on their visit April 26 to Newark schools.

The Newark schools inspected by the two students and Principal E. Russell Slack are similar in design to two new high schools proposed for Pughtown and Weirton if the bond issue is approved in a special election May 16.

The students will screen color slides of the Newark buildings in addition to relating their impressions.

Architect's sketches of the new senior high school proposed for Northern Hancock County will be on display in the school until 9 p. m. and Newell residents are urged to view them, Principal Slack said.

The Newark schools have been rated among the top five systems in the country by the Ford Foundation.

The bond issue is proposed to underwrite the cost of constructing new high schools in Pughtown and Weirton, a new junior high for Weirton, a new elementary building for Chester and improvements to Chester and Wells High Schools.

Ohio Annexation Bill Tops Hurdle In Senate

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The bill in the General Assembly to modernize Ohio's annexation laws cleared the first hurdle Wednesday on its third lap around the legislative course.

The Senate Judiciary Committee voted 5-4 to recommend the bill's passage. A similar motion last week failed by one vote.

Among those who voted to approve the measure this week were Sen. Donald C. Steiner, R-Canton, who was absent last week; Sen. J. G. Simpson, R-Forest, who abstained last week, and Sen. Kenneth F. Berry, R-Coshocton, who said he reserved the right to change his mind if and when the bill comes to a vote on the Senate floor.

In two previous Assembly sessions the same bill has passed the House by wide margins and then failed to get through the Senate.

Up to Rules Committee

There is serious question whether it will get past the Senate Rules Committee this time, where it must be approved before it can reach the floor. That's where it met death in 1959.

In its present form the measure would:

ALLOW nonresident owners and corporations to sign annexation petitions.

REQUIRE a vote among only those residents who live in the area proposed for annexation rather than among the residents of the entire township.

REDUCE the time limits for action at various points in the annexation process.

REDUCE from five to two years the waiting period before resubmission of an annexation proposal that has been defeated at the polls.

TIGHTEN UP the restrictions on removing names from petitions after they have been submitted to county commissioners.

School Provision Stricken

An original provision to eliminate the approval of the State Board of Education on annexation proposals that would split school districts was stricken from the bill before it was brought to a committee vote last week.

Supporting the measure are the Ohio Municipal League, many Chambers of Commerce, including the Ohio Chamber, and the Ohio Home Builders Association.

Strongly opposed to it is the Ohio State Association of Township Trustees and Clerks.

Numbers Bill Argued

In other action Wednesday the Senate committee held its first hearing on a House-passed bill to impose stricter penalties on numbers racket operators. The bill would also include possession of numbers tickets as a violation with a lesser penalty on the first offense.

Representatives of the attorney general's office and the Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police spoke in favor of the bill.

New Rim Developed, Goodyear Announces

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. announced today it has developed a new rim that virtually eliminates excessive tire wear and vehicle vibration.

R. J. Burns, general manager of Goodyear's metal products division, said the rim is built to within .031 of an inch of a true circle and is designed for both disc and cast wheels. "A flast or 'out of round' rim is a major cause of abnormal tire wear and vehicle vibration," Burns said. "The result is an egg-like rolling action which literally pounds flat spots into the tire tread."

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Reducer Proves Value Of Exercise

There is satisfaction in making your built-in slimming system work on all occasions. Some of you readers may recall the lucky dieter who had succeeded in reducing 19 pounds and was about to embark on a lengthy ocean voyage.

Ida Jean Kain

Her new wardrobe for this round-the-world cruise was her proper size, 10. She weighed 115 pounds, right for her 5 foot 2½" small frame.

Warned that the meals were very heavy with lots of courses, she wrote to ask your dietitian's advice to keep the pounds off. The prescription for slimming given the traveller was to take advantage of all the ship's activites. . . shuffleboard, deck tennis, swimming, brisk turns around the deck, the nightly dances.

—:—

HER LETTER, just received, was mailed from the ship. Receiving it was like hearing from an old friend and I want to share it with you.

"I have been a rather long time in reporting, but cruise life coupled with inland trips has kept us on-the-go and there has been little time for writing.

"Your letter in answer to my query as to how to control my weight was most gratefully received and stiffened my spine in preparation for the trip. You will be pleased to know that I've had absolutely no trouble with my weight. I'm one of the very active ones on the ship.

"In fact, I've been able to add a few courses to my meals and still keep my weight at 115 pounds. Surprisingly my clothes are a bit loose, thanks to all the unaccustomed exercise. Several times I've even indulged in a special dessert (small portion), chocolate souffle or baked Alaska.

"I eat no snacks nor hors d'oeuvres, nor any desserts except the two mentioned. I eat all the fish and meat courses and order the vegetables that have no sauces.

"Breakfast in my room is poached eggs (2), milk, grapefruit, and a slice of the delicious Swedish bread. Lunch by the outdoor pool nearly always is a wonderful American hamburger and large glass of milk. Since I do everything offered on the ship, plus dance until the wee hours, you can see that I couldn't possibly gain.

—:—

"IT'S BEEN a wonderful cruise and I thank you for your advice which set me off on the right path. Food has been the least of my worries and, as you said, I'm one of the happiest people on the ship."

This is proof positive that gourmet fare need not fatten and that exercise rebuffs pounds.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Reducer Proves Value Of Exercise

There is satisfaction in making your built-in slimming system work on all occasions. Some of you readers may recall the lucky dieter who had succeeded in reducing 19 pounds and was about to embark on a lengthy ocean voyage.

Ida Jean Kain

Her new wardrobe for this round-the-world cruise was her proper size, 10. She weighed 115 pounds, right for her 5 foot 2½" small frame.

Warned that the meals were very heavy with lots of courses, she wrote to ask your dietitian's advice to keep the pounds off. The prescription for slimming given the traveller was to take advantage of all the ship's activites. . . shuffleboard, deck tennis, swimming, brisk turns around the deck, the nightly dances.

—:—

HER LETTER, just received, was mailed from the ship. Receiving it was like hearing from an old friend and I want to share it with you.

"I have been a rather long time in reporting, but cruise life coupled with inland trips has kept us on-the-go and there has been little time for writing.

"Your letter in answer to my query as to how to control my weight was most gratefully received and stiffened my spine in preparation for the trip. You will be pleased to know that I've had absolutely no trouble with my weight. I'm one of the very active ones on the ship.

"In fact, I've been able to add a few courses to my meals and still keep my weight at 115 pounds. Surprisingly my clothes are a bit loose, thanks to all the unaccustomed exercise. Several times I've even indulged in a special dessert (small portion), chocolate souffle or baked Alaska.

"I eat no snacks nor hors d'oeuvres, nor any desserts except the two mentioned. I eat all the fish and meat courses and order the vegetables that have no sauces.

"Breakfast in my room is poached eggs (2), milk, grapefruit, and a slice of the delicious Swedish bread. Lunch by the outdoor pool nearly always is a wonderful American hamburger and large glass of milk. Since I do everything offered on the ship, plus dance until the wee hours, you can see that I couldn't possibly gain.

—:—

"IT'S BEEN a wonderful cruise and I thank you for your advice which set me off on the right path. Food has been the least of my worries and, as you said, I'm one of the happiest people on the ship."

This is proof positive that gourmet fare need not fatten and that exercise rebuffs pounds.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Ike Passes Eye Exam Required For Driving Car

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — State Police here received a distinguished visitor.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower showed up unexpectedly Wednesday at the State Police barracks—a few miles from his farm home—to take an eye test required to secure a learner's permit to drive an automobile in Pennsylvania.

Eisenhower first tried to read the eye chart without his glasses, but was unable to do so. He passed easily with them on. Capt. Daniel F. Brennan said Eisenhower "did very well." He said he has 20-40 vision with his glasses on.

Under Pennsylvania law, Eisenhower now must take a physical examination from his personal physician before obtaining the learner's permit. If he passes this, he then will be allowed to take the road test for his permanent license.

Eisenhower never before has had a civilian driver's license. He was accompanied here by his aide, Col. Robert Shulz.

Mack Jones struck out 109 times with Louisville last season. Too many strikeouts prevented him from making the Milwaukee Braves this spring.

Teen-Agers Help Block Action For Driving Curfew

From Our Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Ohio's teenagers apparently are going to remain free to drive at any hour of the day or night.

And they can give a small part of the credit to a group of high school students from Forest in Hardin County, who happened to visit the Statehouse at the right time.

With the Forest youngsters half filling the committee room, the Senate Judiciary Committee came within two votes of killing a bill by Sen. Donald C. Steiner, R-Canton, to bar youths under 18 from driving between 1 a.m. and daylight.

Before the formal vote was taken the Forest students were asked to express their opinion of the bill by a show of hands. They were unanimously against it.

With some humor the committee members said Sen. J. E. Simpson, R-Forest, ought to be excused from declaring himself. He took advantage of the situation and abstained.

The 3-2 vote of indefinitely postponing the measure indicated it may not come up again in this session. Five votes are needed to carry such a motion.

Formal witnesses who spoke against the bill included representatives of Ohio theater operators and restaurant owners.

Previously the State Highway Patrol told the committee it was in favor of the driving curfew.

Juveniles Held For Car Thefts

LISBON — Two Salem boys, 17 and 15, and two girls from Salem, both 15, apprehended at Benwood, W. Va., in a stolen auto while apparently attempting to run away to Florida, are slated for a hearing today in Juvenile Clurt.

The quartet, returned from Wheeling Wednesday, were taken into custody at Benwood Tuesday after the driver of the auto went through a traffic signal.

Wheeling police said they stole a 1960 auto in Salem Monday at the start of their trip south, abandoning it near Glen Dale, Moundsville, when it ran out of gas. They then took a 1955 car in Glen Dale but left it in South Wheeling when its gas supply was exhausted.

They then took a car in South Wheeling, owned by a Triadelphia man, in which they were apprehended.

Salem Cyclist Hurt

SALEM — William Rosser, 20, of R. D. 2 is in "good" condition today at Salem City Hospital with a head injury suffered in a motorcycle mishap near Franklin Square Wednesday. The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon is investigating.

Nixon Begins Political Tour

NEW YORK (AP)—For Richard M. Nixon, the long period of self-imposed political silence is over.

The man who came so close to the presidency has embarked on a week-long political tour. Before it is finished, he will visit New York; Chicago; Des Moines, Iowa, Detroit, and Columbus, Ohio.

Nixon came here Wednesday night from Washington—Mrs. Nixon and the girls are remaining in the capital until school is out—for a series of private appointments. Among those whom he will see are former President Herbert Hoover and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Tonight Nixon is the honored guest at a dinner given by Gardner Cowles, editor and publisher of Look magazine and president of the Des Moines Register and Tribune.

The Cowles dinner, to which business and civic leaders are invited, is off the record.

Undoubtedly Nixon will say privately many of the things he will soon be saying publicly.

After his narrow loss in the election, Nixon decided to avoid criticism of President Kennedy during his first 100 days.

Now the 100 days are over, and Nixon has accepted invitations to address four Republican rallies in four different states.

Although Nixon hasn't said specifically where he will attack, he's expected to strike out at Kennedy's domestic proposals, but to withhold his fire on foreign affairs.

Inventory Filed

CINCINNATI (AP) — An inventory of the $2,549,203 estate of a Cincinnati attorney who died last Sept. 4 was filed in Probate Court Wednesday. Robert S. Marx, 71, a former judge of the old Superior Court here, left the major share of his estate for charitable purposes. Marx was a founder of the Disabled American Veterans association.

Ohioans Vote Party Lines On Wage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio's 23 congressmen voted along strict party lines Wednesday as the House passed and sent to President Kennedy an Administration-backed bill increasing minimum wages and expanding the coverage. In the 230-196 vote, Ohio's seven Democratic representatives favored the bill and the state's 16 Republican members voted against it.

Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young, both D-Ohio, voted for the compromise minimum wage bill as it passed the Senate 64-28.

Steelworkers Local 1212 reminded area students today that June 1 is the deadline for applications for two scholarships being offered in the second annual Phillip Murray Scholarship awards.

The office of Joseph D'Alesio, president, at Midland reported the response has been good from the East Liverpool area. Midland students eligible are urged to apply, the office said.

One scholarship, valued at $500 per year for four years, will be awarded to a college of the applicant's choice.

The nursing scholarship, valued at $150 per year for three years, will be given to a nursing school of the applicant's choice. Both are renewable yearly providing funds are available and subject to approval of the Executive Board or membership. Payments will be made per semester.

The applicant must take the National League of Nursing Test and be accepted by the nursing school; maintain the academic standards of the school and be a daughter of a member of Local 1212 in good standing or daughter of deceased or retired members.

Applications with a transcript must be sent to the local union office, 617 Midland Ave. Scholarships will be awarded on the basis of test, personality and achievement.

The insurance was purchased from the Nationwide Insurance Co. John Nash, treasurer, reported a balance of $516.48.

The season's schedule for the 8-12 age group was presented and approved. The 13-15 age group schedule will be presented when completed.

The club voted to buy safety equipment for umpires of the six districts.

Plans were reported near completion for a joint Memorial Day program with Post 952. All boys represented by the club will meet at the Legion hall May 30 by 10:30 a. m. in uniform.

Next meeting is May 16 at 8 p. m. at the Legion hall. Daniel Wright is secretary.

Total arrests numbered 45. Forty-three prisoners were released from Jail in New Cumberland during the month, and eight were in custody as of April 30.

Deputies confined 18 prisoners, Weirton Police Department, 7; Chester and New Cumberland police, one each, West Virginia State Police, 2, and county constables, four.

Free For Area Motorists

Safety Check Of Cars To Be Made

Local and area motorists will have the opportunity to receive a free 10-point safety check of their cars Saturday.

The program, being directed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, is designed to help motorists uncover defects in cars that otherwise might go undetected.

Dave Dailey, left, project chairman, reviews some of the material being used in the campaign with Jack Chapman, a member of his committee.

Dailey said three check lanes will be set up so motorists can have the inspection made in their own neighborhoods. They will be open from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. at Westgate School, Central School on E. 4th St. and at East Junior High School.

Those whose cars pass the inspection will be presented an orange and black "circle of safety" sticker to display on the windshield.

Members of the East Liverpool High School Drivers Club will assist in checking the cars, Dailey said. Also aiding will be members of Mechanics Local 1019. The Auto Dealers Association are helping financially.

In event of rain, the check will be held Saturday, May 13. Each auto will be checked for brakes, front and rear lights, turn signals, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wipers rearview mirror and horn.

Each motorist will be given a pamphlet offering a 10-point safety check for driving, interstate turnpike driving tips and the minimum "following distances" for cars.

North Hancock Red Cross Appeals For Fund Donations

Citing the failure of its fund drive to meet the quota, the North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter today appealed for additional donations from the Newell, Chester, New Cumberland areas.

Mrs. Ruth A. Sprouse, executive secretary, said the recent campaign netted only $2,500, less than half the chaper's quota of $5,179.

Unforseen demands on the chapter's resources have left its treasury exhausted with still two months to go, Mrs. Sprouse said. Emergency situations have compelled the chapter to draw upon funds allocated for its regular services, leaving the budget sorely depleted, she said.

"In the New Cumberland area alone, 30 families were evacuated from their homes in the flood of March 31, 1960. Volunteer workers were fed, motor supplies purchased, and two families given financial assistance from chapter funds in cases of one-family disasters," she pointed out.

Lesser emergencies arising in the course of regular services often mean immediate and unexpected outlay of cash, she added.

Home service calls and assistance between families and servicemen abroad account for other expenses.

Mrs. Sprouse also stressed the need for volunteers to assist in more solicitations.

Summing up the disappointing results of the campaign, she said they found still many areas where no worker ever called.

Mrs. Sprouse said the chapter hopes to conclude its campaign Monday — World Red Cross Day, commemorating the 133rd anniversary of the birth of Henry Dunant, founder of the movement.

Girls To Be Honor Students For New Cumberland Class

NEW CUMBERLAND — Miss Beverly Torrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Torrence, has been named valedictorian of the 1961 Senior Class of New Cumberland High School.

Salutatorian will be Miss Barbara Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Porter, Principal C. P. Smith reported.

Miss Torrence compiled a 3.85 scholastic average for her four years of studies, while Miss Porter's grade average is 3.69.

The class of 47 seniors will be graduated at 69th annual commencement exercises May 29 at 8 p. m. in the school. Diplomas will be presented by Dr. W. Dale Williams, president of the Hancock County Board of Education.

Baccalaureate exercises are scheduled May 28 at 8 p. m.

Other students rated among the top 10 of the Senior Class and their point averages are Barbara Chetock, 3.6; Virginia Boyles, 3.5; Ronald Haynes, 3.47; Patrick Koner, 3.3; Thomas Joy, 3.27; Charles Miller, 3.1; Nedra Fadley, 2.97, and Anita Porter, 2.95.

The annual Junior-Senior Prom is scheduled May 25 in the school auditorium. The annual Ivy Day ceremonies will be held May 26.

Switchboard Set For Courthouse

Installation of a new switchboard in the Hancock County Courthouse in New Cumberland was to be completed today by the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co.

Installed by county commissioners in a move to shave monthly telephone bills, the switchboard will be operated by Miss Nola Fisher, 18, of New Cumberland R. D. 2, who will receive $200 a month.

Once the switchboard is in operation, toll charges on Courthouse calls from Chester, Newell and East Liverpool residents will be eliminated by virtue of a new, direct line to the county seat.

The new Courthouse number after today will be New Cumberland 2631.

Crushed To Death

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — George Friedt, 40, of Rt. 6, Medina, an Ohio Highway Department employe, was crushed to death Wednesday beneath the blade of a road grader he had been operating on Ohio 18 about 2½ miles east of here. The Highway Patrol said Friedt was standing behind the grader when it started to roll backward and he was caught.

Wellsville Red Cross Will Elect Sept. 28

A nominating committee to present a slate of officers was named by James Laughlin, chairman, at a meeting of the Wellsville Red Cross Chapter Monday night at Carnegie Library.

Appointed were Thomas Morris, Cedric Stanway, Miss Ruth Cooper, Jack Lanam and Thomas Piatt. The election will be held Sept. 28.

Twenty-two were present. The chapter voted to send a representative to a small craft instruction course at Culvert, Ind., June 12-22.

Mrs. Paul Todd, home service secretary, reported on her activities the past six months, which included aiding servicemen in obtaining emergency leaves, counseling families of servicemen and obtaining aid for families who suffered losses because of fire.

Ashland Oil's Revenues Up

Net income of Ashland Oil & Refining Co. of Ashland, Ky., for the six months ended March 31 was $7,475,833, an increase over the $7,035,412 in the similar period of 1960.

For the quarter ended March 31, net income was $3,570,043, compared with $3,408,560 for the same quarter a year ago.

Earnings per share on common stock for the recent quarter, after provisions for dividends on preferred shares, were 50 cents, making a total of $1.06 per share for the six-month period, compared with $1.02 for the first six months of 1960 on the smaller number of shares then outstanding.

In a letter to stockholders accompanying the report Rexford S. Blazer, board chairman, and Evertt F. Wells, president, reported "both physical and dollar volume of sales were lower in the March quarter than in the same quarter last year due primarily to reduced demand for heating oils and industrial fuels.

Lower operating levels in the steel and related industries have affected demand for heavy fuel oils and other petroleum products this year. In recent weeks there has been improvement in the operations of most of the industries served by the firm, which operates a river-truck terminal at Wellsville.

Free For Area Motorists

Safety Check Of Cars To Be Made

Local and area motorists will have the opportunity to receive a free 10-point safety check of their cars Saturday.

The program, being directed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, is designed to help motorists uncover defects in cars that otherwise might go undetected.

Dave Dailey, left, project chairman, reviews some of the material being used in the campaign with Jack Chapman, a member of his committee.

Dailey said three check lanes will be set up so motorists can have the inspection made in their own neighborhoods. They will be open from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. at Westgate School, Central School on E. 4th St. and at East Junior High School.

Those whose cars pass the inspection will be presented an orange and black "circle of safety" sticker to display on the windshield.

Members of the East Liverpool High School Drivers Club will assist in checking the cars, Dailey said. Also aiding will be members of Mechanics Local 1019. The Auto Dealers Association are helping financially.

In event of rain, the check will be held Saturday, May 13. Each auto will be checked for brakes, front and rear lights, turn signals, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wipers rearview mirror and horn.

Each motorist will be given a pamphlet offering a 10-point safety check for driving, interstate turnpike driving tips and the minimum "following distances" for cars.

North Hancock Red Cross Appeals For Fund Donations

Citing the failure of its fund drive to meet the quota, the North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter today appealed for additional donations from the Newell, Chester, New Cumberland areas.

Mrs. Ruth A. Sprouse, executive secretary, said the recent campaign netted only $2,500, less than half the chaper's quota of $5,179.

Unforseen demands on the chapter's resources have left its treasury exhausted with still two months to go, Mrs. Sprouse said. Emergency situations have compelled the chapter to draw upon funds allocated for its regular services, leaving the budget sorely depleted, she said.

"In the New Cumberland area alone, 30 families were evacuated from their homes in the flood of March 31, 1960. Volunteer workers were fed, motor supplies purchased, and two families given financial assistance from chapter funds in cases of one-family disasters," she pointed out.

Lesser emergencies arising in the course of regular services often mean immediate and unexpected outlay of cash, she added.

Home service calls and assistance between families and servicemen abroad account for other expenses.

Mrs. Sprouse also stressed the need for volunteers to assist in more solicitations.

Summing up the disappointing results of the campaign, she said they found still many areas where no worker ever called.

Mrs. Sprouse said the chapter hopes to conclude its campaign Monday — World Red Cross Day, commemorating the 133rd anniversary of the birth of Henry Dunant, founder of the movement.

Wellsville Red Cross Will Elect Sept. 28

A nominating committee to present a slate of officers was named by James Laughlin, chairman, at a meeting of the Wellsville Red Cross Chapter Monday night at Carnegie Library.

Appointed were Thomas Morris, Cedric Stanway, Miss Ruth Cooper, Jack Lanam and Thomas Piatt. The election will be held Sept. 28.

Twenty-two were present. The chapter voted to send a representative to a small craft instruction course at Culvert, Ind., June 12-22.

Mrs. Paul Todd, home service secretary, reported on her activities the past six months, which included aiding servicemen in obtaining emergency leaves, counseling families of servicemen and obtaining aid for families who suffered losses because of fire.

Once the switchboard is in operation, toll charges on Courthouse calls from Chester, Newell and East Liverpool residents will be eliminated by virtue of a new, direct line to the county seat.

Ashland Oil's Revenues Up

Net income of Ashland Oil & Refining Co. of Ashland, Ky., for the six months ended March 31 was $7,475,833, an increase over the $7,035,412 in the similar period of 1960.

For the quarter ended March 31, net income was $3,570,043, compared with $3,408,560 for the same quarter a year ago.

Earnings per share on common stock for the recent quarter, after provisions for dividends on preferred shares, were 50 cents, making a total of $1.06 per share for the six-month period, compared with $1.02 for the first six months of 1960 on the smaller number of shares then outstanding.

In a letter to stockholders accompanying the report Rexford S. Blazer, board chairman, and Evertt F. Wells, president, reported "both physical and dollar volume of sales were lower in the March quarter than in the same quarter last year due primarily to reduced demand for heating oils and industrial fuels.

Lower operating levels in the steel and related industries have affected demand for heavy fuel oils and other petroleum products this year. In recent weeks there has been improvement in the operations of most of the industries served by the firm, which operates a river-truck terminal at Wellsville.

Sewage Plan To Be Fought By Industry

Industry Council Wednesday evening decided to take action to prevent Beaver and West Bridgewater from bulding a lagoon-type sewage disposal system on the south side of Route 68 and the eastern border of Ohio View area in the borough.

Council said, "There is reason to believe that the boroughs of Beaver and West Bridgewater have presented preliminary plans to the Pennsylvania Department of Health, requesting permission to build a sewage disposal system with the lagoon on the south side of Route 68 and the eastern border of the Ohio View area in the Borough of Industry.

"This is the last good flat ground left fronting the Ohio River, which is desirable for recreation and industrial development. Because the sewage system has not been proven efficient in this part of the country, we feel it will give off an offensive odor and decrease the valuation of property in the borough."

Atty. Charles Barrickman, borough solicitor, has been directed to take any legal action necessary to forestall and eliminate" this threat to the future development of the borough."

Borough engineer, Michael Baker Jr., Inc. of Rochester, was directed to assist in the fight.

All residents, property owners and friends of the borough were asked to give full support to the effort of Council and administrative officers of the borough to "protect the natural and legitimate aspirations of the borough."

In other business, Councilman Matthew Bertovic, utilities chairman, reported that the Duquesne Light Co. will make a survey of street lights to see if more are needed or if some need to be changed to other locations. No new street lights will be installed until the survey is completed, he said.

Council approved a request of the Ohio View Women's Club to plant a blue spruce tree in the center of Ohio View Circle. It will be used as a community tree and will be decorated for Christmas. Bertovic presented the request.

Councilman Steve Suchanec asked residents of Avondale Dr. and Ohio View Dr. to keep cars off those streets Saturday morning so the streets can be scraped and oiled.

Calvin Dunlap, president, presided. Next meeting is May 17.

Sewage Plan To Be Fought By Industry

Industry Council Wednesday evening decided to take action to prevent Beaver and West Bridgewater from bulding a lagoon-type sewage disposal system on the south side of Route 68 and the eastern border of Ohio View area in the borough.

Council said, "There is reason to believe that the boroughs of Beaver and West Bridgewater have presented preliminary plans to the Pennsylvania Department of Health, requesting permission to build a sewage disposal system with the lagoon on the south side of Route 68 and the eastern border of the Ohio View area in the Borough of Industry.

"This is the last good flat ground left fronting the Ohio River, which is desirable for recreation and industrial development. Because the sewage system has not been proven efficient in this part of the country, we feel it will give off an offensive odor and decrease the valuation of property in the borough."

Atty. Charles Barrickman, borough solicitor, has been directed to take any legal action necessary to forestall and eliminate" this threat to the future development of the borough."

Borough engineer, Michael Baker Jr., Inc. of Rochester, was directed to assist in the fight.

All residents, property owners and friends of the borough were asked to give full support to the effort of Council and administrative officers of the borough to "protect the natural and legitimate aspirations of the borough."

In other business, Councilman Matthew Bertovic, utilities chairman, reported that the Duquesne Light Co. will make a survey of street lights to see if more are needed or if some need to be changed to other locations. No new street lights will be installed until the survey is completed, he said.

Council approved a request of the Ohio View Women's Club to plant a blue spruce tree in the center of Ohio View Circle. It will be used as a community tree and will be decorated for Christmas. Bertovic presented the request.

Councilman Steve Suchanec asked residents of Avondale Dr. and Ohio View Dr. to keep cars off those streets Saturday morning so the streets can be scraped and oiled.

Calvin Dunlap, president, presided. Next meeting is May 17.

Spahn Follows Up No-Hitter With 2-Hit Job Over LA

Pirates Wind Up Short Road Trip Losing To Cards

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Warren Spahn followed up his no-hitter of last Friday with a two-hit, 4-1 decision over Los Angeles Wednesday night, walking just two and striking out nine for his 291st career victory and first over the Dodgers in three years. San Francisco beat the Chicago Cubs 8-4 and regained the National League lead when St. Louis spilled Pittsburgh 3-1.

Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 9-3 in the other NL game.

The Dodgers broke Spahnie's shutout string at 11 2-3 innings on Gilliam's hit, which fell at the feet of converted infielder Mel Roach in left field. The double scored Charlie Smith, who had opened with a walk and then stayed put while Spahn fanned John Roseboro and losing right-hander Stan Williams (1-2).

The Cardinals, shut out for 14 innings, jumped on Vinegar Bend Mizell for all three runs in the fifth inning. Bob Gibson won it, with Lindy McDaniel's mop-up relief after Rocky Nelson's homer broke up a four-hit shutout in the eighth.

A three-run seventh, with two runs unearned, broke a 3-3 tie for the Giants. Willie McCovey's single drove in the deciding run and tagged rookie Jack Curtis with the defeat in his first decision. Billy O'Del (1-1) was the winner relieving Mike McCormick in the first inning after the young lefty suffered a gashed lip when hit by Don Zimmer's bouncer.

The Reds made it four in a row, three over the Phils, with a two-run fifth off Johnny Buzhardt (0-2). Jim Maloney (1-1) won it with relief by Bill Henry after Clay Dalrymple's three-run home run in the eighth.

Yankees, Detroit Tied For AL Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees trimmed the Minnesota Twins 7-3 and drew into a tie with Detroit for the American League lead when the Tigers were beaten 5-4 at Washington Wednesday night. Cleveland beat the Chicago White Sox 4-3; the Los Angeles Angels defeated Baltimore 7-6 on two-out home runs by Ted Kluszewski and Earl Averill in the ninth inning, and Kansas City topped Boston 9-8 in 10 innings.

The Senators did it the hard way, coming from behind and then breaking a 3-3 tie on Dale Long's two-run double in the sixth off Frank Lary, who had won eight straight, four this season. Rookie Joe McClain won his third, although needing Dave Sisler's relief.

The Angels came from five runs behind against the Orioles, who scored all their runs on two homers by Jim Gnetile and a solo shot by Whitey Herzog. Klu started the winning rally with his sixth home run, off losing reliever Skinny Brown (0-1). Tex Clevenger won his second in relief.

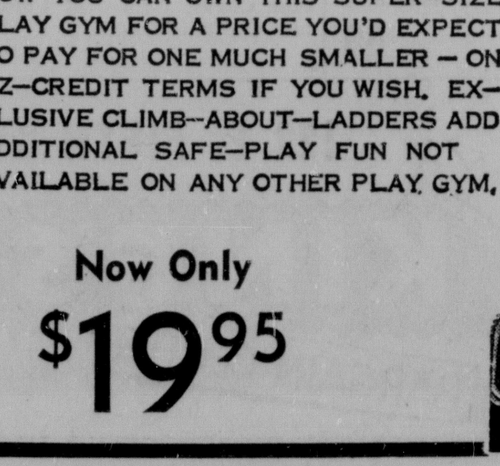

Oriole starter Chuck Estrada left the game after being struck above the right ankle by Ken Aspromonte's fifth inning line drive. And the Angels lost shortstop Ken Hamlin, who was carried off on a stretcher after colliding with Ken Hunt while chasing a fly in the ninth.

The Yankees scored three unearned runs in the fourth off Pete Ramos (2-1), then beat the Cuban right-hander with another unearned run in a four-run seventh. Hector Lopez' single drove in the clincher and Roger Maris capped the inning with a three-run homer. Bob Turley (3-1), was the winner.

A pinch single by Bob Hale broke it up for the Indians after a two-out double by Johnny Romano in the ninth. The White Sox tied it 3-all in their ninth before reliever Frank Funk cut them down for his second victory. Gerry Staley was the loser in relief.

The A's blew an 8-0 lead when the Red Sox scored twice in the seventh and then ganged up on Ray Herbert for six in the ninth that tied it. Kansas City finally nailed it when Andy Carey doubled in the 10th and Jerry Lumpe singled off reliever Mike Fornieles (0-1). Don Larsen was the winner.

Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh and Wally Moon of Los Angeles both grounded into 21 double plays last season, tops in the National League.

15 Expected In Derby Run At Churchill

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Is Carry Back, who strikes from far back with power in the home stretch, your choice for Saturday's 87th running of the $125,000 add Kentucky Derby?

Women Cage Boosters Will Meet Tonight

The Women Basketball Boosters Club will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Hi-Teen rooms of the YMCA. All members are requested to turn in their money from the sale of plaques. Mrs. Bonnie Maltarich, president, will preside.

Or perhaps you favor a horse like Ambiopoise or Flutterby, who prefer to lay closer to the early pace and attempt to overpower the opposition in the final one-eighth mile.

But if you like horses who break out of the starting gate like a missile, then your preference must be among Crozier, Globemaster, Four-And-Twenty or Sherluck.

There was strong argument for all of them even the late running Dr. Miller, as the names of an expected field of 15 three-year olds were dropped into the entrybox at Churchill Downs today.

Carry Back became the No. 1 nominee when his trainer, Jack Price, dropped in the entry Wednesday.

If 15 parade to the post Saturday, the 1¼-mile run will be worth $163,000 with $120,500 going to the winner. Only one derby has been richer, in 1956 when Needles won.

Rain or shine, Churchill Downs is expected to be packed with its usual estimated crowd of around 100,000. With the official figures never announced by officials, it has become customary to say 100,000 or more.

Jerry Lucas of Ohio State set a school record when he tallied 48 points in a Big Ten game against Michigan State in February.

Outstanding Athletes Are Honored When 350 Attend Beaver Local Fete

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

An estimated 350 paid tribute to Beaver Local High's athletes at an elaborate winter-spring sports banquet Wednesday night in the school at Williamsport.

A project of the ambitious Beaver Local Boosters Club, the banquet was highlighted by the presentation of awards to three standout basketball players, four members of the defending District champion wrestling squad and a student cited for promoting athletics.

The Beaver performers were lauded for their achievements by Coach Wayne Ashbaugh of Mount Union College, who piloted Zanesville High's Ohio Class AA basketball champions in 1955.

Ashbaugh, whose 11-year tenure at Zanesville also included a trip to the state finals in 1958 when the team compiled a 24-1 mark, advised the Beavers to "know where you're going, and always have the desire to excel." He's in his third season as cage mentor of the Alliance college.

Three seniors snared the basketball awards that were presented by Coach Jack Frontone. The winners were Jim Banner, top rebounder with an average of 11.6 per game; Mike Durbin, top scorer with a 14.6 point average, and Dick Barnhart, best foul shooter. The race for the rebounding and scoring awards was a tight one and the field was well - balanced, Frontone pointed out.

The wrestling awards were presented Francis Campbell, named next year's captain by his teammates; John Steele, most improved rookie; Larry Yost, most improved varsity regular, and state champion Carl Hoppel, most valuable.

Coach Jack O'Rourke presented the awards and introduced members of his wrestling team that went unbeaten while capturing the District crown last season.

John Plate, hard-working student, was presented a plaque "for outstanding achievements in the field of sports publicity."

Toastmaster Foyn Wright, Boosters Club president, presented Plate with the award. Following was the presentation of a trophy to Principal Lee Kirkland by Norman Green on behalf of the Rogers Ruritan Club in recognition of the school's first winning basketball season last year.

The varsity and reserve basketball performers introduced included Lyle Adkins, John Aliulis, Richard Aliulis, Phillip Ankrim, John Baker, Banner, Barnhart, John Broadbent, David Brugh, Larry Carroll, Durbin, George Gaydos, Tom Greenwood.

Spahn Follows Up No-Hitter With 2-Hit Job Over LA

Pirates Wind Up Short Road Trip Losing To Cards

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Warren Spahn followed up his no-hitter of last Friday with a two-hit, 4-1 decision over Los Angeles Wednesday night, walking just two and striking out nine for his 291st career victory and first over the Dodgers in three years. San Francisco beat the Chicago Cubs 8-4 and regained the National League lead when St. Louis spilled Pittsburgh 3-1.

Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 9-3 in the other NL game.

The Dodgers broke Spahnie's shutout string at 11 2-3 innings on Gilliam's hit, which fell at the feet of converted infielder Mel Roach in left field. The double scored Charlie Smith, who had opened with a walk and then stayed put while Spahn fanned John Roseboro and losing right-hander Stan Williams (1-2).

The Cardinals, shut out for 14 innings, jumped on Vinegar Bend Mizell for all three runs in the fifth inning. Bob Gibson won it, with Lindy McDaniel's mop-up relief after Rocky Nelson's homer broke up a four-hit shutout in the eighth.

A three-run seventh, with two runs unearned, broke a 3-3 tie for the Giants. Willie McCovey's single drove in the deciding run and tagged rookie Jack Curtis with the defeat in his first decision. Billy O'Del (1-1) was the winner, relieving Mike McCormick in the first inning after the young lefty suffered a gashed lip when hit by Don Zimmer's bouncer.

The Reds made it four in a row, three over the Phils, with a two-run fifth off Johnny Buzhardt (0-2). Jim Maloney (1-1) won it with relief by Bill Henry after Clay Dalrymple's three-run home run in the eighth.

Yankees, Detroit Tied For AL Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees trimmed the Minnesota Twins 7-3 and drew into a tie with Detroit for the American League lead when the Tigers were beaten 5-4 at Washington Wednesday night. Cleveland beat the Chicago White Sox 4-3; the Los Angeles Angels defeated Baltimore 7-6 on two-out home runs by Ted Kluszewski and Earl Averill in the ninth inning, and Kansas City topped Boston 9-8 in 10 innings.

The Senators did it the hard way, coming from behind and then breaking a 3-3 tie on Dale Long's two-run double in the sixth off Frank Lary, who had won eight straight, four this season. Rookie Joe McClain won his third, although needing Dave Sisler's relief.

The Angels came from five runs behind against the Orioles, who scored all their runs on two homers by Jim Gnetile and a solo shot by Whitey Herzog. Klu started the winning rally with his sixth home run, off losing reliever Skinny Brown (0-1). Tex Clevenger won his second in relief.

Oriole starter Chuck Estrada left the game after being struck above the right ankle by Ken Aspromonte's fifth inning line drive. And the Angels lost shortstop Ken Hamlin, who was carried off on a stretcher after colliding with Ken Hunt while chasing a fly in the ninth.

The Yankees scored three unearned runs in the fourth off Pete Ramos (2-1), then beat the Cuban right-hander with another unearned run in a four-run seventh. Hector Lopez' single drove in the clincher and Roger Maris capped the inning with a three-run homer. Bob Turley (3-1), was the winner.

A pinch single by Bob Hale broke it up for the Indians after a two-out double by Johnny Romano in the ninth. The White Sox tied it 3-all in their ninth before reliever Frank Funk cut them down for his second victory. Gerry Staley was the loser in relief.

The A's blew an 8-0 lead when the Red Sox scored twice in the seventh and then ganged up on Ray Herbert for six in the ninth that tied it. Kansas City finally nailed it when Andy Carey doubled in the 10th and Jerry Lumpe singled off reliever Mike Fornieles (0-1). Don Larsen was the winner.

Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh and Wally Moon of Los Angeles both grounded into 21 double plays last season, tops in the National League.

15 Expected In Derby Run At Churchill

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Is Carry Back, who strikes from far back with power in the home stretch, your choice for Saturday's 87th running of the $125,000 add Kentucky Derby?

Women Cage Boosters Will Meet Tonight

The Women Basketball Boosters Club will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Hi-Teen rooms of the YMCA. All members are requested to turn in their money from the sale of plaques. Mrs. Bonnie Maltarich, president, will preside.

Or perhaps you favor a horse like Ambiopoise or Flutterby, who prefer to lay closer to the early pace and attempt to overpower the opposition in the final one-eighth mile.

But if you like horses who break out of the starting gate like a missile, then your preference must be among Crozier, Globemaster, Four-And-Twenty or Sherluck.

There was strong argument for all of them even the late running Dr. Miller, as the names of an expected field of 15 three-year olds were dropped into the entrybox at Churchill Downs today.

Carry Back became the No. 1 nominee when his trainer, Jack Price, dropped in the entry Wednesday.

If 15 parade to the post Saturday, the 1¼-mile run will be worth $163,000 with $120,500 going to the winner. Only one derby has been richer, in 1956 when Needles won.

Rain or shine, Churchill Downs is expected to be packed with its usual estimated crowd of around 100,000. With the official figures never announced by officials, it has become customary to say 100,000 or more.

Jerry Lucas of Ohio State set a school record when he tallied 48 points in a Big Ten game against Michigan State in February.

Outstanding Athletes Are Honored When 350 Attend Beaver Local Fete

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

An estimated 350 paid tribute to Beaver Local High's athletes at an elaborate winter-spring sports banquet Wednesday night in the school at Williamsport.

A project of the ambitious Beaver Local Boosters Club, the banquet was highlighted by the presentation of awards to three standout basketball players, four members of the defending District champion wrestling squad and a student cited for promoting athletics.

The Beaver performers were lauded for their achievements by Coach Wayne Ashbaugh of Mount Union College, who piloted Zanesville High's Ohio Class AA basketball champions in 1955.

Ashbaugh, whose 11-year tenure at Zanesville also included a trip to the state finals in 1958 when the team compiled a 24-1 mark, advised the Beavers to "know where you're going, and always have the desire to excel." He's in his third season as cage mentor of the Alliance college.

Three seniors snared the basketball awards that were presented by Coach Jack Frontone. The winners were Jim Banner, top rebounder with an average of 11.6 per game; Mike Durbin, top scorer with a 14.6 point average, and Dick Barnhart, best foul shooter. The race for the rebounding and scoring awards was a tight one and the field was well-balanced, Frontone pointed out.

The wrestling awards were presented Francis Campbell, named next year's captain by his teammates; John Steele, most improved rookie; Larry Yost, most improved varsity regular, and state champion Carl Hoppel, most valuable.

Coach Jack O'Rourke presented the awards and introduced members of his wrestling team that went unbeaten while capturing the District crown last season.

John Plate, hard-working student, was presented a plaque "for outstanding achievements in the field of sports publicity."

Toastmaster Foyn Wright, Boosters Club president, presented Plate with the award. Following was the presentation of a trophy to Principal Lee Kirkland by Norman Green on behalf of the Rogers Ruritan Club in recognition of the school's first winning basketball season last year.

The varsity and reserve basketball performers introduced included Lyle Adkins, John Aliulis, Richard Aliulis, Phillip Ankrim, John Baker, Banner, Barnhart, John Broadbent, David Brugh, Larry Carroll, Durbin, George Gaydos, Tom Greenwood.

The freshmen basketball squad was presented certificates by Coach Tom McCall. The recipients are Ray Artrip, Ronald Deering, David Lee, Michael McGahon, William Myer, Roger Vincent, John Williams, Richard Whittington and James McLaughlin.

Varsity and reserve wrestlers introduced were Gary Bookman, Keith Berger, Campbell, Roy Carter, John Cook, Frank Fisher, Donald Goforth, Shirl Grimm, Wayne Hickman, Carl Hoppel, Ricky Hoppel, Frank Lyons, Wayne Lyons, Michael Mays.

Varsity and reserve track squad members introduced were Warren Bradley, Larry Carroll, John Detchon, Mike Durbin, George Gaydos, Donald Goforth, James Hall, Wayne Hickman, John Holt, David Keys, Mike Klembara, James McLaughlin, Ronald McLaughlin, John Palmer, John Rambo, Steve Rayburn, Edward Shingleton, Robert Smith, John Steele, Daniel Thompson, George Wilkinson and Fred Woodburn, and Richard Glover, Donald Jugenheimer, managers.

Golf team members introduced by their coach were Richard Aliulis, Phil Ankrim, David Brugh, Tom Greenwood, James N. Hall, William Hickenbottom, Richard Johnson, Vay McComas, Jim Pike and Frank Tice.

Cheerleaders introduced by Mrs. Patricia Todd, coach, were Beverly Kapp, Saundra McKenzie, Shirley Obney, Sally Peck and Carol Whitacre, varsity; Judy Allen, Scherry Dunn, Donna Chuck and Kathryn Jacob, reserve; and Judy Bernhart, Phyllis Green, Shirley Pancake, Chloe Ann Plate and Gloria Williams, freshmen.

Squad members presented gifts to Frontone, O'Rourke, McCall and Suarez. Other guests were introduced by George VanHorne, executive head of the district. George Wilkinson offered the invocation and benediction.

The dinner was served under the capable direction of Mrs. Leo Jenkins, chairman for the Boosters Club.

Indians Win On Hale's Pinch Single

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

I would like to nominate to the Football Hall of Fame, one Ralph "Bugs" Lockhart of Glenmoor, the guy who floored a live deer with a mid-section tackle. He is probably the only person who deliberately tackled a deer and came out with only a small abrasion of the left hand.

If you haven't heard this deer swam the Ohio River and wound up in the heart of East Liverpool in a telephone company work garage last Wednesday.

Three "amateur cowboys" were trying to lasso the deer, a stunt that Roy Rogers probably couldn't do. After the animal, weighing about 100 pounds, smashed a window in a small office and proceeded to imitate a bull in a china shop, "Bugs" decided to break up the foolishness.

Now the doe hasn't anything to worry about until next deer season, whenever that will be, having been released on the state area at Highlandtown.

About 15 years ago, two deer walked into the Youngstown Sheet & Tube plant while the mill was in operation.

One workman said to the other: "Joe, if that isn't two deer I see, I'm punching the clock as I had a rough time last night." There were two deer all right. One got killed, the other crippled and had to be destroyed.

On another occasion, a deer somehow found its way deep into the residential section of Youngstown's northside.

After jumping fences, leaping hedges and being chased by dogs, it fell dead of nervous exaustion in a backyard. I was called about it and when I got there a little old lady on whose property the mishap occurred was charging 2 cents to see the deer.

About 25 years ago a deer was cornered up a blind alley on Spring St. in Youngstown.

The game protector was called. When he got there, women and children were jamming the alley looking at the innocent little animal which the kids associate with Santa Claus. The protector did the only sensible thing to do with no other equipment at hand — he shot the animal.

If he hadn't, the deer would have broken for freedom sooner or later and someone could have been badly hurt with those razor-like hoofs.

Not only that, but deer have been known to jump through plate glass windows when frightened. Without a doubt the animal would have been killed by an automobile or could have caused a collision. After it was shot, there was no damage done and the deer was turned over to a public institution and used for food. People who criticized the game protector's actions, just didn't know anything about deer.

Actually, it is the job of a peace officer, like a policeman, sheriff or a constable to protect the lives and property of the people, and any of them would be justified in shooting a deer any time when the animal enters the heart of a city, according to my way of thinking.

Three deer were seen in the square in Lisbon a few years ago. But that situation was different. The deer had to make only a few hops, a leap or two and they would be back safely in the hills that surround the village.

Any officer, I would say, is certainly justified when, in his judgment, the shooting of any animal would protect human lives and property.

Safety Scores Romano For 4-3 Win Over Sox

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's pinch-hitter de luxe Bob Hale and catcher John Romano have close ties with the city of Chicago, but on the playing field nostalgia for the Windy City fades away and determination takes over.

Hale and Romano got the key hits to give Cleveland a sweep of its two-game series with Chicago's White Sox.

"I love to beat the White Sox," said Hale Wednesday night after his pinch single in the ninth inning scored Romano for a 4-3 victory. "Why?" said Hale. "Because I live there. I like to beat everybody, but especially the White Sox. This game went back there on TV. My mother saw it. My brother saw it. My two sisters, too. All my friends."

It was Hale's second timely pinch hit in two nights.

Romano was a little more restrained. But he had every right to crow. He cracked a double with two out to get into position to score on Hale's hit. In the seventh he'd belted a home run into the left field seats for two runs. He also had a single for a perfect night at the plate. His eleventh inning double Tuesday night won that game.

Romano, now batting .339 as the Tribe's everyday catcher, was traded to Cleveland by the White Sox in 1959. Third baseman Bubba Phillips, among others, also came to the Indians in that trade. Cleveland gave up Minnie Minoso, Dick Brown and a couple of others.

Second baseman Johnny Temple kept his hitting streak going Wednesday with a single in the first inning off former Indian Cal McLish. That stretched his string through all 18 of Cleveland's games.

The Indians got a run in the third inning on singles by Romano and Jim Perry, a sacrifice by Temple and a single by Don Dillard.

The Indians went into the ninth inning with a 3-0 lead. Perry, working on a five-hit, no-walk job, had retired the last 15 batters in order. But with two out, Minoso and Roy Sievers walked. After Floyd Robinson smacked a run-scoring single, Cleveland manager Jimmie Dykes lifted Perry and sent in Frank Funk.

Funk hit Sherm Lollar with a pitch, loading the bases. Then Billy Goodman singled to right to score two runs for a 3-3 tie.

But Funk became the winning pitcher when Hale delivered his game-winning hit off loser Gerry Staley. Funk, who made his ninth appearance, now has won two games while losing one.

The Indians, off today, play Washington here Friday night.

McDougald Will Scout For New Entry In NL

NEW YORK (AP) — Gil McDougald is ready to start a new career as a baseball scout at the age of 32. The former infielder who quit the New York Yankees because he didn't want to travel has hooked on with the New York team in the National League.

McDouglad is reunited with his old boss, George Weiss, president of the new club. He will scout the central and north New Jersey area, concentrating on high schools and colleges.

"We checked with Commissioner Ford Frick," said McDougald "He said I was on the Yankees' voluntary retired list but was under no obligation as long as I was not a player, coach or manager."

When McDougald left the Yankees he said he didn't want to travel and also wanted to devote more time to his budding building maintenance business.

"My business work is mostly at night," he explained. "For the present I can handle both jobs. I have been watching a lot of games because I like baseball. I figure I might as well be scouting as just looking at the games. This way all my travel will be in the state of New Jersey and I can get home every night."

"I think I had a couple of years left in me as a player," McDougald said, "but the rest of it would have been the hard, rough way. Maybe hitting .270, .260, .250 or maybe even lower. I wanted to get out when things were still going pretty good."

Nicklaus Rates Choice To Defend College Crown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, probably the No. 1 amateur in the country, is an odds-on choice to successfully defend his Ohio Intercollegiate Golf Championship here Monday.

At least 21 colleges, represented by more than 100 players, are entered in the 36-hole medal play over Ohio State University's exacting Scarlet course.

The Ohio State team of five, which scored 384 for the 18 holes, took the 1960 school title—and is favored to win again.

Entries include teams from Heidelberg, Ohio Wesleyan, Oberlin, Denison, Wittenberg and Wooster of the Ohio Conference; Miami, Ohio University, Toledo, Bowling Green and Kent State of the Mid-American; Bluffton, Ohio Northern, Defiance and Ashland of the Mid-Ohio loop, along with Cincinnati, Youngstown, Ohio State, Xavier, Dayton and Tiffin.

Each team is permitted to enter six players, with the five low scores counting in the race for the championship.

DETROIT (AP)—Western keglers are picking up the pace of the American Bowling Congress Tournament here.

A team from Las Vegas, Nev., Showboat Lanes, almost hit the jackpot Wednesday night, coming within 31 pins of Meyerland Builders of Houston, leaders in the regulars division team event.

The Las Vegas club opened with the highest team game of the tournament in any division, 1,123, and followed with 967 and 1,013 for a 3,103 total. The Houston team leads with 3,134.

Indians Get Essegian In Trade With A's

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics have traded outfielder Chuck Essegian to Cleveland for Julius Grant, a left-handed pitcher with Salt Lake City.

Frank Lane, A's general manager, said Grant will join Honolulu of the Pacific Coast League. Grant is a brother of Cleveland pitcher Jim Grant.

Essegian, a pinch hit home run hero for Los Angeles in the 1959 World Series, has appeared in only four games with the A's, hitting .333.

Nolan Jones of Arizona State established a new conversion record in football last season. He kicked 25 extra points without a miss.

Marlins May Wind Up In Charleston, W.Va.

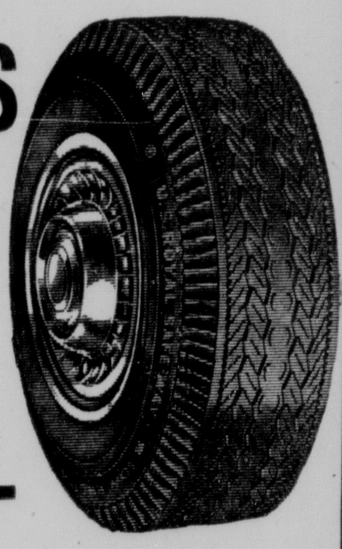

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — The much-travelled San Juan Marlins—formerly Miami — of the International Baseball League likely will wind up in Charleston, W. Va., within a couple of weeks.

The principal reason seems to be that International League admission prices are too high for the average Puerto Rican fan.

League President Tommy Richardson said in Buffalo, N.Y., Wednesday that the league's directors had agreed the franchise must be moved because costs of travel to San Juan were running much higher than the visiting clubs' shares of the gate receipts.

Indians Win On Hale's Pinch Single

By R. L. LIDE

I would like to nominate to the Football Hall of Fame, one Ralph "Bugs" Lockhart of Glenmoor, the guy who floored a live deer with a mid-section tackle. He is probably the only person who deliberately tackled a deer and came out with only a small abrasion of the left hand.

If you haven't heard this deer swam the Ohio River and wound up in the heart of East Liverpool in a telephone company work garage last Wednesday.

Three "amateur cowboys" were trying to lasso the deer, a stunt that Roy Rogers probably couldn't do. After the animal, weighing about 100 pounds, smashed a window in a small office and proceeded to imitate a bull in a china shop, "Bugs" decided to break up the foolishness.

Now the doe hasn't anything to worry about until next deer season, whenever that will be, having been released on the state area at Highlandtown.

About 15 years ago, two deer walked into the Youngstown Sheet & Tube plant while the mill was in operation.

One workman said to the other: "Joe, if that isn't two deer I see, I'm punching the clock as I had a rough time last night." There were two deer all right. One got killed, the other crippled and had to be destroyed.

On another occasion, a deer somehow found its way deep into the residential section of Youngstown's northside.

After jumping fences, leaping hedges and being chased by dogs, it fell dead of nervous exaustion in a backyard. I was called about it and when I got there a little old lady on whose property the mishap occurred was charging 2 cents to see the deer.

About 25 years ago a deer was cornered up a blind alley on Spring St. in Youngstown.

The game protector was called. When he got there, women and children were jamming the alley looking at the innocent little animal which the kids associate with Santa Claus. The protector did the only sensible thing to do with no other equipment at hand — he shot the animal.

If he hadn't, the deer would have broken for freedom sooner or later and someone could have been badly hurt with those razor-like hoofs.

Not only that, but deer have been known to jump through plate glass windows when frightened. Without a doubt the animal would have been killed by an automobile or could have caused a collision. After it was shot, there was no damage done and the deer was turned over to a public institution and used for food. People who criticized the game protector's actions, just didn't know anything about deer.

Actually, it is the job of a peace officer, like a policeman, sheriff or a constable to protect the lives and property of the people, and any of them would be justified in shooting a deer any time when the animal enters the heart of a city, according to my way of thinking.

Three deer were seen in the square in Lisbon a few years ago. But that situation was different. The deer had to make only a few hops, a leap or two and they would be back safely in the hills that surround the village.

Any officer, I would say, is certainly justified when, in his judgment, the shooting of any animal would protect human lives and property.

Safety Scores Romano For 4-3 Win Over Sox

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's pinch-hitter de luxe Bob Hale and catcher John Romano have close ties with the city of Chicago, but on the playing field nostalgia for the Windy City fades away and determination takes over.

Hale and Romano got the key hits to give Cleveland a sweep of its two-game series with Chicago's White Sox.

"I love to beat the White Sox," said Hale Wednesday night after his pinch single in the ninth inning scored Romano for a 4-3 victory. "Why?" said Hale. "Because I live there. I like to beat everybody, but especially the White Sox. This game went back there on TV. My mother saw it. My brother saw it. My two sisters, too. All my friends."

It was Hale's second timely pinch hit in two nights.

Romano was a little more restrained. But he had every right to crow. He cracked a double with two out to get into position to score on Hale's hit. In the seventh he'd belted a home run into the left field seats for two runs. He also had a single for a perfect night at the plate. His eleventh inning double Tuesday night won that game.

Romano, now batting .339 as the Tribe's everyday catcher, was traded to Cleveland by the White Sox in 1959. Third baseman Bubba Phillips, among others, also came to the Indians in that trade. Cleveland gave up Minnie Minosc, Dick Brown and a couple of others.

Second baseman Johnny Temple kept his hitting streak going Wednesday with a single in the first inning off former Indian Cal McLish. That stretched his string through all 18 of Cleveland's games.

The Indians got a run in the third inning on singles by Romano and Jim Perry, a sacrifice by Temple and a single by Don Dillard.

The Indians went into the ninth inning with a 3-0 lead. Perry, working on a five-hit, no-walk job, had retired the last 15 batters in order. But with two out, Minoso and Roy Sievers walked. After Floyd Robinson smacked a run-scoring single, Cleveland manager Jimmie Dykes lifted Perry and sent in Frank Funk.

Funk hit Sherm Lollar with a pitch, loading the bases. Then Billy Goodman singled to right to score two runs for a 3-3 tie.

But Funk became the winning pitcher when Hale delivered his game-winning hit off loser Gerry Staley. Funk, who made his ninth appearance, now has won two games while losing one.

The Indians, off today, play Washington here Friday night.

McDougald Will Scout For New Entry In NL

NEW YORK (AP) — Gil McDougald is ready to start a new career as a baseball scout at the age of 32. The former infielder who quit the New York Yankees because he didn't want to travel has hooked on with the New York team in the National League.

McDouglad is reunited with his old boss, George Weiss, president of the new club. He will scout the central and north New Jersey area, concentrating on high schools and colleges.

"We checked with Commissioner Ford Frick," said McDougald "He said I was on the Yankees' voluntary retired list but was under no obligation as long as I was not a player, coach or manager."

When McDougald left the Yankees he said he didn't want to travel and also wanted to devote more time to his budding building maintenance business.

"My business work is mostly at night," he explained. "For the present I can handle both jobs. I have been watching a lot of games because I like baseball. I figure I might as well be scouting as just looking at the games. This way all my travel will be in the state of New Jersey and I can get home every night."

"I think I had a couple of years left in me as a player," McDougald said, "but the rest of it would have been the hard, rough way. Maybe hitting .270, .260, .250 or maybe even lower. I wanted to get out when things were still going pretty good."

Marlins May Wind Up In Charleston, W.Va.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — The much-travelled San Juan Marlins—formerly Miami — of the International Baseball League likely will wind up in Charleston, W. Va., within a couple of weeks.

The principal reason seems to be that International League admission prices are too high for the average Puerto Rican fan.

League President Tommy Richardson said in Buffalo, N.Y., Wednesday that the league's directors had agreed the franchise must be moved because costs of travel to San Juan were running much higher than the visiting clubs' shares of the gate receipts.

Indians Get Essegian In Trade With A's

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics have traded outfielder Chuck Essegian to Cleveland for Julius Grant, a left-handed pitcher with Salt Lake City.

Frank Lane, A's general manager, said Grant will join Honolulu of the Pacific Coast League. Grant is a brother of Cleveland pitcher Jim Grant.

Essegian, a pinch hit home run hero for Los Angeles in the 1959 World Series, has appeared in only four games with the A's, hitting .333.

Crew Begins Removal Of Run Building

Street department workers today continued the job of removing sections of two buildings from the East End Run at Virginia Ave., clearing the way for a cleanup of a debris barricade that has been blamed for freqeunt overflows of the small stream and resultant flooding of adjoining streets and cellars.

Actual removal of the debris in the run bed may begin sometime today after the crew completes the task of tearing down a 12-foot section of a building overhanging the run and a garage which collapsed into the stream.

The buildings are owned by M. F. Staats of Virginia Ave., 84-year-old used furniture dealer and potter, who has fought a running battle with the city for at least six years in connection with the run floods.

After two false starts resulting when Staats raised objections to the city's plan to clean out the run bed, the work finally got under way Wednesday morning about 10.

After the debris of the two structures is removed, crews will dig out and haul away a mountain of refuse from the undercut section of stream bank. Then they will clear the bed of the run and clean out the blocked culvert under Virginia Ave., immediately upstream.

The debris taken out of the run bed will be loaded onto trucks and hauled away. The street department expects the job may require two weeks.

Water Shutoff Slated In Sunnyside District

Service will be turned off Friday morning for about two and a half hours for 100 to 150 homes in the Sunnyside area of West End while the water department replaces a broken valve in a four-inch main at W. 9th St. and Dresden Ave., Supt. Donald T. Duke warned householders today.

The turnoff will affect homes along W. 9th between Dresden Ave. and Lisbon St. as well as the hillside area above W. 9th, known as Sunnyside or the Washington School District, Duke said. Lisbon St. itself will not be affected nor will the service for homes on W. 8th St. or others to the east of W. 9th St.

The affected main is one of five which the department is scheduled to cut off for removal or replacement because they are in the path of the West End-California Hollow Freeway project, Duke said.

Youth, 16, Admits That He Killed Stepfather, 65

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP) — Tuscarawas County sheriff's deputies said Wednesday a teen-age boy admitted shooting his stepfather to death when the 65-year-od man came at him carrying a chain.

After the shooting last Friday, the boy "tried to lead a normal life," went to Sunday school and visited his mother in a Canton hospital, where she had been taken previously because of a heart attack, deputies said.

Dead was Whitaker E. Grell, whose body, riddled by shotgun blasts, was found Tuesday in a cornfield a short distance from the farm near Magnolia in Carroll County.

"I'm sorry it happened, but it was all done in fear," sheriff's deputies quoted the 16-year-old boy as saying in a statement. The boy's name was withheld on order from juvenile court.

The youth told deputies his 13-year-old brother was in the house at the time.

Deputies discovered the body after an anonymous telephone call. It was wrapped in a tarpaulin bound with chains. They said the body was riddled with shotgun pellets. An autopsy showed Grell had been shot three times, once each in the face, stomach and leg.

The turnoff will affect homes along W. 9th between Dresden Ave. and Lisbon St. as well as the hillside area above W. 9th, known as Sunnyside or the Washington School District, Duke said. Lisbon St. itself will not be affected nor will the service for homes on W. 8th St. or others to the east of W. 9th St.

The affected main is one of five which the department is scheduled to cut off for removal or replacement because they are in the path of the West End-California Hollow Freeway project, Duke said.

Youth, 16, Admits That He Killed Stepfather, 65

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP) — Tuscarawas County sheriff's deputies said Wednesday a teen-age boy admitted shooting his stepfather to death when the 65-year-od man came at him carrying a chain.

After the shooting last Friday, the boy "tried to lead a normal life," went to Sunday school and visited his mother in a Canton hospital, where she had been taken previously because of a heart attack, deputies said.

Dead was Whitaker E. Grell, whose body, riddled by shotgun blasts, was found Tuesday in a cornfield a short distance from the farm near Magnolia in Carroll County.

"I'm sorry it happened, but it was all done in fear," sheriff's deputies quoted the 16-year-old boy as saying in a statement. The boy's name was withheld on order from juvenile court.

The youth told deputies his 13-year-old brother was in the house at the time.

Deputies discovered the body after an anonymous telephone call. It was wrapped in a tarpaulin bound with chains. They said the body was riddled with shotgun pellets. An autopsy showed Grell had been shot three times, once each in the face, stomach and leg.

Bringing Up A Family

Rules Offered On Class Behavior

In response to an editorial of mine in a children's magazine, appealing to school children to listen courteously, keep their hands down and sit still while a classmate "recites", came the following from a West Virginia teacher. "In your editorial, 'Let's Talk Things Over', you suggested that school children draw up rules for acting well while another child is reciting in class. What you said appealed to my children of the first, second and third grade of a two-room school. "Here are the rules they drew up, which we are posting in our classroom for our own benefit:

Dr. Garry Meyers

"1. NEVER LAUGH at anyone's mistakes.

"2. Pay attention when anyone is reciting (be a good listener always).

"3. Be quiet during a recitation (do not shuffle feet or roll pencils).

"4. Never wave hands or stand up excitedly when anyone is speaking at the front of the room.

"5. Try never to butt in while a person is talking.

"6. If you are not sure what you want to say, talk it over with someone before or after class (this point given by a first grader).

"7. Never whisper while a child is answering.

"8. Be sure feet are out of aisles while someone is walking to the front of the room, so he will not trip.

"9. Never tag anyone as he goes to the front of the room.

"10. Don't make 'under your breath' statements when trying to get a person's attention.

"11. Keep pencils out of faces and hands of other people.

"12. Follow 'good manner' rule always."

—.—

THE TEACHER added: "Some of these rules seem to overlap, but I tried to let the children make their contributions as they expressed them."

In writing this teacher to commend her and her children, I suggested that at some future time her children might like to change the form of the rules, starting them with "I will try always" or "I will try never."

I believe this form might appeal more strongly to the child reading the rules.

A family of several children might desire to draw up similar rules on conversation around the dinner table or fireside.

My bulletins, "The Very Selfish Child" and "The Young Child's Speech," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

2 Dog Wardens Told To Increase Efforts

Hancock County's two dog wardens have been ordered by county commissioners to double their efforts of collecting stray dogs.

Commissioners said the dog wardens will "begin knocking on doors of home owners" to speed up the impounding of stray dogs roaming through Chester, Newell, New Cumberland and Weirton.

The dog wardens rounded up 196 dogs in April and commissioners said they are "not satisfied" with the number. The dog wardens have impounded about 500 dogs since January and the number collected should have reached at least 2,000 by now, commissioners declared.

All dogs without county dog licenses will be impounded, commissioners emphasized.

Or shape nests by putting meringue through cookie press or pastry bag. Place in very slow oven, 250°F., 1 hour. At end of time, turn oven off and allow meringues to stand until oven is room temperature. Remove and store in dry place until time to be served. Fill with sweetened fruit such as strawberries, peaches, or with ice cream. Yield: 6 meringues.

Legislators' Bills Pushed

By Review Correspondent

COLUMBUS — Bills of two Eastern Ohio legislators advanced in the State Legislature Wednesday afternoon.

The Senate passed unanimously a bill aimed at cracking down on false bomb threats to schools.

On the other side of the Statehouse, the House approved, 117-11, a bill co-sponsored by Rep. J. Warren Bettis, R-Columbiana, to ban "sales gimmicks" by the Department of Liquor Control.

The senate measure, sponsored by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-St. Clairsville, would impose a fine of up to $1,000 or prison term up to one year or both on anyone found guilty of giving false reports to school officials or other persons in charge of places of public assembly.

In its original form, the bill would have imposed a two-year prison term, making a false report a felony.

But Sargus amended the bill on the floor, saying Grand Jury action would result in delays in prosectuion. The misdemeanor penalty, he said, would permit immediate prosectuion of offenders, giving the law a more deterrent effect in halting "a rash of false reports."

The bill now goes to the House for action.

Bettis' bill, which goes to the Senate, would ban the retail sale of miniature bottles of liquor, the sale of gift certificates and the establishment of drive-in liquor stores.

Sponsors of the measure said the trend in recent years in the State Liquor Department has been to shift from mere control and policing of liquor sales to an aggressive policy of merchandising in an effort to increase liquor consumption.

They said this is opposed to the original intent of the Liquor Control Act, which was adopted in 1933 after repeal of prohibition.

30 Tons Of Food Issued In April

LISBON — Over 30 tons of surplus food — the most for any month since the program began — was distributed in April in Columbiana County, Welfare Director Robert Bycroft reported.

This is just 15 tons less than was distributed for the first six months operation.

A total of 1,103 families representing 3,740 persons received food last month. There were 1,303 certified cases with 4,266 persons.

A breakdown shows needy got: Flour, 12,100; milk, 7,326; rice 3,832; eggs, 2,753; rolled oats, 3,996; beans, 7,702; lard, 3,427; butter, 3,682, and pork and gravy 7,092, for a total of 61,405 pounds.

Distribution dates for surplus foods for May will be announced next week, Bycroft said.

Scout District Staff Seats 2 As Members

Roy B. Davis of East Liverpool and Charles Edward Moulton were inducted into the Cherokee Boy Scout District commissioners' staff at a meeting Wednesday night with David Fugate of Idaho Ave.

Eugene Seeley, district commissioner, was in charge. Further plans were made for the Camporee May 19-21 at Camp McKinley. Calvin Filler of Salem, Columbiana Council commissioner, and Arden Crumbaugh of Salem, Shawnee District commissioner, were guests.

About 14 attended the meeting at which reports were given.

Scout Group To Meet

LISBON — The committee of the Shawnee Boy Scout District will meet Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Old Stone House at Camp McKinley with Tom Starkey of Salem, chairman, in charge.

The bill now goes to the House for action.

Bettis' bill, which goes to the Senate, would ban the retail sale of miniature bottles of liquor, the sale of gift certificates and the establishment of drive-in liquor stores.

Sponsors of the measure said the trend in recent years in the State Liquor Department has been to shift from mere control and policing of liquor sales to an aggressive policy of merchandising in an effort to increase liquor consumption.

They said this is opposed to the original intent of the Liquor Control Act, which was adopted in 1933 after repeal of prohibition.

30 Tons Of Food Issued In April

LISBON — Over 30 tons of surplus food — the most for any month since the program began — was distributed in April in Columbiana County, Welfare Director Robert Bycroft reported.

This is just 15 tons less than was distributed for the first six months operation.

A total of 1,103 families representing 3,740 persons received food last month. There were 1,303 certified cases with 4,266 persons.

A breakdown shows needy got: Flour, 12,100; milk, 7,326; rice 3,832; eggs, 2,763; rolled oats, 3,996; beans, 7,702; lard, 3,427; butter, 3,682, and pork and gravy 7,092, for a total of 61,405 pounds.

Distribution dates for surplus foods for May will be announced next week, Bycroft said.

About 14 attended the meeting at which reports were given.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My boy friend gave me a wrist watch for my birthday. First I'd like to tell you that we are not teen-agers. I am 26 and he is 30. He has a fine job, makes excellent money and buys the best of everything—for himself, that is.

The watch he gave me stopped running the second day I had it. I didn't want to hurt his feelings so I had it repaired and said nothing. Four days later the crystal fell out and it stopped again, so I had it fixed once more.

Last week the stem and the strap both broke. I took it to the jeweler again and he said it wasn't worth fixing. He claims the watch was second-hand when I got it and couldn't have cost more than $15 new. Shall I say something?—8:20 (THAT'S WHEN THE WATCH ALWAYS STOPS)

-:-

Dear 8:20: He didn't give you much of a watch, Honey, but you sure did get the works.

Say nothing. Put the watch away and when your boy friend asks where it is, tell him you had it repaired three times and the jeweler advised you not to invest any more money it it.

Slight Or Oversight?

Dear Ann: My problem ranks somewhere beneath the U.N. crisis in importance but I need some outside thinking.

Recently a close relative phoned to tell me of the death of a distant relative whom I had not seen in 20 years.

She said, "Of course you'll want to send flowers so why don't we pool our money and send a nice wreath together?"

Frankly I had no intention of sending flowers but I didn't want to appear cheap so I said yes. That same day I sent her my check for $7.50. It was agreed that she would handle it through her florist.

I learned the day after the funeral that the wreath was sent in her name only. Shall I let her know I'm aware of this or should I say nothing?—BURNED.

-:-

Dear Burned: Ask her to check with her florist and learn why they omitted your name from the card.

Name Problem

Dear Ann: I certainly did appreciate your telling off that woman who called an acquaintance "Mrs. Whatchamacallit" because her name was difficult to pronounce. I have a similar problem.

Our family name, because of the spelling, causes some people to mispronounce it. It comes out sounding like a vulgar expression.

When people who don't know any better make this mistake should I correct them? Or do you think that this would be a breach of etiquette?—MRS. IN DOUBT.

-:-

Dear Mrs.: It is perfectly proper to correct a person who mispronounces your name. If you do it gently and not imply that he did it intentionally there should be no hurt feelings.

Confidentially

TO GETTING GRAY: Tell him either-or—and make it stick. If you two wait until everything is perfect, you'll be too old to walk down the aisle. Someone will have to push the wheelchairs.

TO TORN TO PIECES: Your child has a name. If this is the only reason you can think of to go back to a man you describe as "selfish, abusive and lazy" I don't think much of the move.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
